GOP STANDING PAT ON DECISION TO CUT BUDGET

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury John Snyder met with a group of Congress members today, including Republicans, but there was no sign of slackening in the announced GOP drive to slash the Truman budget.

Those who conferred with the treasury head did not divulge much of the conversations to reporters. But after they returned to the capitol, talk of budget cutting continued.

As for taxes, a number of Republicans continued to drive for a 20 percent individual income tax cut, while others reiterated their previous stand that the whole fiscal situation must be canvassed before a definite decision is reached.

The meeting was timed on the eve of President Truman's dispatch of his budget message to Congress. The message is reported to call for $37,000,000,000 of government spending in the year beginning July 1. This is about $5,000,000,000 under the present year's prospective outlay but many Republicans contend there should be a bigger cut.

Chairman Knutson (R-Minn.) of the tax-framing House ways and means committee and Chairman Mulkin (R-Colo.) of the Senate finance committee—two of those meeting with Snyder—described their lunch with him as a purely social "get acquainted affair," but this apparently was the full before the storm on the budget issue.

The Republican congressional high command on budgets and taxes—Mulkin, Knutson, Chairman Taber (N.Y.) of the House appropriations and chairman Bridges (N.H.) of Senate appropriations—held a strategy meeting prior to the Snyder luncheon.

Taber later reiterated to reporters that he expects to cut $5,000,000,000 off the budget, the figure he calls for $37,000,000,000 in new appropriations.

"We can cut the budget to $29,141,000,000 and I've got the figures to prove it," Taber said. Taber wants 1,000,000 Federal (Continued on Page Eighteen)

Local Group Buys Controlling Interest In Bahr Property

One of the largest financial transactions in the history of Pottstown involving High street real estate was announced yesterday.

The deal, said to have been closed at a cost of more than $250,000, consisted of the purchase of the controlling stock in the Bahr Arcade Realty company.

That corporation had as its assets the Bahr Arcade building at High and Charlotte streets, the auditorium market and the Bahr annex. The property is a three-story stone and brick building. It has a frontage of 78 feet on High street and extends 300 feet in depth to Queen street.

Frank Anderson, Pottstown real estate broker, announced the transaction. He said "local interests" had purchased the controlling stock in the Bahr Realty company. But it was learned on good authority that John Bahr, delicatessen store operator at High and Charlotte street, was the main figure in the real estate buy. His associates were not divulged.

Joseph L. Prince, Pottstown lawyer, represented the "local interests," according to Anderson. Carroll L. Rutter, also a Pottstown attorney, represented the Bahr realty company. The property will come under the exclusive management of Anderson on May 1.

The Bahr Arcade is one of the largest buildings in Pottstown. It is steeped in historical interest. It was built in 1901 by Wilson R. Brown, of Pottstown, and George L. Gerhard, of Reading, for speculation. For many years the building housed a "nickelodeon" or motion picture house, had a flight of stairs leading off High street into the theater.

On the second floor there was a basketball court, and Daniel "Danny" Freese, local athletic contest promoter, also staged boxing exhibitions there. (Continued on Page Eighteen)

New Case Bill Approves Action By Court to Halt Coal Strikes

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (AP)—Rep. Francis Case (R-SD.), introducing the 1947 version of his Case bill, proposed today that the government have permanent authority to block coal strikes and other disrupting walkouts through court injunctions.

Case's new bill was perhaps twice as broad in scope as the measure which passed Congress last year and died in the White House.

He added a string of Wagner act amendments and other proposals. One of these amendments would make workers, as well as employers, subject to charges of "unfair labor practices."

The new provision on court injunctions, Case said in a statement, "legalizes the course of action followed in the John L. Lewis case without requiring government seizure."

To halt a strike last year in the Federal-held soft coal mines, the government issued a restraining order under a Federal court. When Lewis ignored the order, the judge fined him and the United Mine Workers for contempt of court.

Under the new Case bill, such procedure could be used only as a last resort, and after the President had declared an emergency. It could be used only when a dispute in a coal mine would be a "public health, safety or interest."

Case told a reporter this would include the coal industry "if the strike (Continued on Page Fifteen)

Samuel Porter Re-elected By Cold Storage Firm

Samuel H. Porter was re-elected president and treasurer of the Pottstown Cold Storage and Warehouse company at the annual meeting of the corporation held last evening at the office. He has been head of the company for more than 30 years.

Dr. J. Emer Porter was elected vice-president succeeding Norman S. Martin. Ralph P. Holloway was re-elected secretary and George M. Longaker was re-elected assistant treasurer. Clair G. Haag was elected to the board of directors to fill a vacancy created by the death of Wesley Grow. Other directors are the Messrs. Porter, Martin, Longaker and William A. Griffith.

During 1946 a dividend of 12 percent was paid to stockholders.

Personnel Bill Is Approved by State Senators

HARRISBURG, Jan. 10 (Friday) (P)—Taking a cue on speed from the House, the State Senate early today expedited legislative action on a bill providing for the reclassification of personnel in the General Assembly.

The personnel reorganization bill calls for re-classifying employees of the House and Senate and eliminates obsolete jobs. In addition, it increases the number of stenographers, a move which GOP leaders said would speed up legislative work.

The opening week of the 1947 session made legislative history in setting two precedents—one governor nor presenting the final message of a recently-renewed executive, and starting enactment of legislation in the first week.

Since former Governor Edward Martin resigned Jan. 2 to take his seat in the U. S. Senate, his successor, Governor John C. Bell Jr., formerly lieutenant governor, presented Martin's final message a few days ago.

These sources said the cabinet looked upon the German peace treaty as the toughest of problems. International problems in view of the forthcoming March meeting in Moscow of the Foreign Ministers council.

Preparations went ahead, however, for resumption of the Palestine conference, expected to convene Jan. 21. There was no indication here that Jewish representatives would be present. But in Geneva, Louis Segal, member of the World Zionist organization, said the Zionist congress might meet immediately if some promising proposal were made by Britain.

Such a proposal, he said, might suggest creation of a substantial Jewish state.

His statement was a new indication that the Zionists do not regard participation in the conference as altogether impossible, although the British attitude up to now has been that no concrete promises could be made to any of the parties in the negotiations until the talks were resumed. Both the Jews and Palestine's Arabs avoided the previous conference sessions.

Today's cabinet session had been expected to bring a wide range of subjects relating to foreign policy in general, including the problems of disarmament, the Anglo-Egyptian treaty and British demands upon Albania.

U. S. Wants Japan To Start Reparations

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (P)—State and War department officials said tonight the United States is determined to start collection of reparations from Japan immediately, even without full agreement on terms with Russia and other wartime allies.

James K. Penfield, deputy director of the State department's office of Far Eastern affairs, said an urgent directive to General MacArthur is under consideration to start removals soon of Japanese industrial plants and equipment.

Assistant Secretary Howard C. Peterson, of the War department, advised that General MacArthur and the Japanese should be told as soon as possible what levels of industry Japan will be permitted to keep "so that the Japanese can work out their economic recovery on a realistic basis and cease to be a charge on the American budget."

The two officials, discussing U. S. policy in Japan on a radio broadcast, said the plan is to advise the Far Eastern commission of the action taken but not to wait formal approval.

Occupation forces in Japan currently number 124,000 Americans and 40,000 British commonwealth troops, Peterson said.

Slippery Road Does Bang-up Job on 1946 Model

icy roads and skidding were responsible for these two wrecks. The car at the right, a 1946 model bought only recently by its owner, Harry A. Peck, of 328 South street, skidded into the rear of another vehicle Tuesday night on Route 422 a mile east of Pottstown. Peck was injured slightly. Inspecting the damage are Arthur Giest, left, and Donald Halteman, right, employees of a local garage. The car on the left belongs to Edward L. Pennypacker, of 224 Rosedale drive, who crashed into an auto owned by a Mrs. James, of Chicago, on a slippery road near Easton Tuesday. No injury resulted.

BRITISH STRESS GERMAN TREATY

Cabinet Cancels Meeting In Palestine Problem To Study Peace Pact

By ALVIN STEINKOPF LONDON, Jan. 9 (P)—Authoritative sources said tonight the British cabinet had decided to give the problem of the German peace treaty priority over Palestine, amid rumors that the Holy Land situation would be eased by a 60-day suspension of violence there.

A scheduled special cabinet meeting, which was to have taken up the Palestine matter, among others, was canceled without explanation, but the informants said decisions taken after the two weeks' cabinet review of foreign policy concluded yesterday would "gradually become apparent."

These sources said the cabinet looked upon the German peace treaty as the toughest of problems. International problems in view of the forthcoming March meeting in Moscow of the Foreign Ministers council.

Preparations went ahead, however, for resumption of the Palestine conference, expected to convene Jan. 21. There was no indication here that Jewish representatives would be present. ## Police Hunt Pair Who Robbed, Bound Couple in Old Farmhouse

A State-wide man hunt was in progress last night for two masked bandits who kidnaped and robbed a young couple early yesterday morning and left them trussed up in an abandoned house on an East Norriton farm.

Description of the bandits has been sent over the police teletype system and over the Montgomery county police radio while State police of the Collegeville station spent the day in re-enacting the crime, reported to have taken place at 2.30 a. m.

Victims of the holdup were Lloyd Landis, 20, of Collegeville RD 1, and Ella Cressman, 18, of Centennial street, Schwenksville. Yesterday afternoon Landis took State Troopers Donald Bearcraft and Albert Kweder over the scene of the crime, describing every detail. Landis told police that he and Miss Cressman were parked on Woodlyn avenue, a little-traveled road between Township line and Potshot road in East Norriton township, north of Germantown pike, when two masked men rapped on the car window.

Opening the car door, one of the bandits thrust a gun into Landis' side and then ordered the couple out of the car and into a winter wheat field nearby.

After remaining in the field a few minutes the bandits apparently changed their minds. They directed the couple back into the car and forced Landis to drive to an abandoned house on the Anders property, about a mile away.

Once in the house the hold-up pair trussed up Landis on the ground floor with his necktie and scarf. To make certain of their male victim's bonds, the bandits forced Miss Cressman to remove her stockings. These (Continued on Page Fifteen)

No Immediate Rise In Prices Seen for Local Hotel Rooms

Unless a flood of building materials hit the market and local hotel owners are given an opportunity to put into effect long-planned improvements and remodeling, the government's removal of rent ceilings on transient rooms will not be felt in Pottstown, at least in the two largest hotels, for some time.

Owners of both the Shuler house, and the Merchants hotel last night said they had no plans to raise the same rate of rooms, despite the decontrol order scheduled to go into effect Feb. 15.

Stanley Chaplin, owner and manager of the Shuler house, said last night that he "hadn't really given the raising of prices much thought."

"The rates we charge for our transient rooms seem to suit Pottstown," he said, "not too high and yet not too low."

Chaplin said that he has plans drawn for a $75,000 remodeling job but that they were shelved due to lack of materials. "If we get a chance to make such drastic changes," Chaplin said, "we might then have to raise our prices."

Chaplin said that his hotel has recently undergone a "face-lift" but that the present rates are sufficient to carry that bill.

He admitted that the operating costs of a hotel today were high, but said, "We'll continue at our same rates until it hurts." Approximately 65 percent of Chaplin's rooms are for transients.

George Kessler, owner-manager of the Merchants hotel, said that no plans are imminent for a raise in transient rates. He claimed, however, that he was working on a "very small margin" at present.

Kessler said that operating costs have skyrocketed. He also had said for remodeling lately, but said he hopes that the present rates will take care of the bill.

The Merchants hotel has only 12 percent of its rooms devoted to the transient trade. "We have many permanent residents," Kessler (Continued on Page Nine)

Firestone Union Elects Dujack Over Darlington for Presidency

Stephen Dujack, with 200 votes, was swept into office as president of Local 336, United Rubber Workers of America (CIO) in yesterday's election, defeating former president Oscar Darlington, who totaled only 67.

Robert E. Garber, unopposed re-elected as treasurer, said last night that the balloting was disappointingly light, with only 267 of the local's 1800 members turning out.

The new vice-president, Theodore Hubert, with a majority of 152 votes, easily overcame his rival, John Melcher, with 110, and Jayne Winters, who has been acting secretary of the local for some time, beat out Michael Bugel for that post by a large margin of 173 to 82.

Garber, nominated with no opposition, was assured the position of treasurer before the polls opened. Three out of four trustees were chosen. With their respective numbers of votes, they are: Joseph McManus, 202; Albert Kremus, 165, and Elizabeth Miller, 172. Hubert was out of the running with 135.

Out of seven nominees for the executive board, the three elected and their vote totals were: Samuel Paul, 174; Jerry Rutter, 148, and Michael Chonka, 126. The losing four were William Rhoads, 104; William Ecker, 77; Edward Bliven, 64; and John Glowacki, 48.

For the posts of division representatives, Rutter and Ecker, both unopposed, became the representatives of Divisions 1 and 2 respectively. In the three-man race for Division 3 representative, Garber won easily with 69 votes while Melcher and Robert Adams tallied 31 and 16 apiece.

The polls were opened from 7 to 9 a. m. and 1 to 5 p. m. yesterday in the local's office in the Singer building.

The newly-elected officers take office on Jan. 19 and the terms run until November.

Cold Weather Steals the Show But Snow Gives Curtain Bow

By LLOYD KOPPEL (Mercury Staff Writer)

"You can't say I didn't try," the Snow Man told us early this morning. "Of course I may have strained a muscle or two, but I'm feeling better now. I tried to muss things up fine — even started my first flurry around dinner-time. I'd catch on, but the whole thing blew up."

"Yes, right in our faces," we retorted. We tactfully reminded him that plenty of wind-swept trouble was caused pedestrians on High street about 6 o'clock, just when he was trying his hardest.

"Oh sure," Snow Man said, "I managed to make things tough for the city, but I didn't want to take a swat at the citizenry also."

"Those two storms must have taken something out of my early season form . . . the flakes were small and they just couldn't seem to stick."

With a twinkle in his eye he went on: "I tried to muss things up fine — even started my first flurry around dinner-time. I'd catch on, but the whole thing blew up."

STATE'S FIGHT AGAINST WRIT TO BE PLANNED

Murder Prosecutor Calls Meeting for Today; Motive, Time Element May Be Told

The prosecution has called a conference of all county and local officials who have investigated the death of Mrs. Miriam Green at 9:30 o'clock this morning. District Attorney Frederick B. Smith announced yesterday.

The plans of the Commonwealth to fight the release of Gerald C. Wentzel, charged with the murder, on a writ of habeas corpus will be outlined at the meeting. It will also be decided whom to place on the witness stand tomorrow morning when the hearing is held.

Chief of Police James A. Langhane and Officer Harold E. Halber will attend the meeting, as will Assistant District Attorneys A. Benjamin Scirica and Alexander Knight and County Detectives Albert Murphy and Harry D. Rankin of the district attorney's staff.

Scirica said yesterday he will rely on the time element and motive in opposing the writ.

The prosecution will allege that a pact had been made between Wentzel and Mrs. Green to divorce their mates and marry each other, but that the pact was never to go through with his part of the deal.

Mrs. Green's divorce came through a week before her semi-nude body was discovered.

The prosecution may allege that she was killed because she threatened to go to Wentzel's wife with the story of their relationship unless he also sought an immediate divorce.

The Commonwealth also is relying on the significance of a statement by Dr. C. Simpson, coroner's physician, placing the time of Mrs. Green's death "at least 12 hours" before the police were called Dec. 9.

According to the prosecution's plans, it will then be charged that Mrs. Green was still alive when Wentzel arrived at the apartment the night before.

"We feel we have a very strong case," Scirica said last night, "and the evidence of the FBI will prove to be a vital factor."

Defense Attorney Wellington H. Rosenberry Jr. repeated that he was convinced of Wentzel's innocence last night and said he was not worried about the time factor upon which Scirica will rely.

"Special counsel John Wentzel," he added, "and he is the calmest man I ever saw charged with murder. He slept from 9 o'clock last night (Wednesday) until 5 o'clock this morning without awakening once. I am convinced that he is innocent."

"Wentzel is an unusual character," Scirica admitted, adding later that any man who could keep his phlegm during a trial for 19 months is unusual.

"No wonder he can be calm now," he concluded.

The hearing on the petition for Wentzel's release on a writ of habeas corpus submitted by Rosenberry on Wednesday will be held before President Judge Harold G. Kirtch and his associates, Judge George J. Dannenbauer, sitting en banc at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. (Continued on Page Fifteen)

'47 Officers Sealed By Order of Owls

Officers of Pottstown Post, No. 1393, Order of Owls, for the new year were installed last night with Arthur Robenolt, past president, in charge of the ceremony assisted by George Freymeyer, warden for the installation.

John Kass took the chair as the new president of the post with Joseph K. Miller as past president. Taking office as new vice-president was William Neuman.

Other officers who were installed in their posts were Harold Warner, warden; Leonard Harline, warden; William Lessig, Jr., secretary; Edward McVoy, financial secretary; Brooke Fosmoch, secretary, and William Lessig Sr., treasurer.

Three new members were accepted into the organization and applications for 15 more were received by the chair. The proposition was adopted upon and accepted. Thirty members were on hand to witness the proceedings.

Domestic Relations Court Cases Rise

By Staff Correspondent
NORRISTOWN, Jan. 9.—The statistical facts behind the domestic difficulties of hundreds of Montgomery countians was told today in the annual report submitted by Russell H. Richards, chief probation-desertion officer of the Montgomery county courts.

The report shows an increasing number of domestic relations cases —243 for the year as compared to 147 in 1945.

The number of active support cases as of Jan. 1 this year is 1121. Total cash receipts were $289,687 as compared to $221,834.

Active support orders totaled $271,065 as compared with $203,312 for the previous year.

The number of adult offenders placed on probation during 1946 was 87.

The greatest number in this group, 39, ranged from 21 to 30 years of age. The next greatest number, 22, were youths 16 to 20.

Mac Arthur and Far Eastern Commission Disagree on New Constitution for Japan

By TOM LAMBERT

TOKYO, Jan. 9 (P)—Highest authoritative sources today reported the Far Eastern commission has misgivings about the recently promulgated, war-outlawing Japanese constitution and will review it within three years after it becomes effective in May.

These informants said the FEC, which decides occupation policy for Japan, ruled the Japanese Diet will review the constitution also and the Japanese people may be called upon for their opinion.

The constitution, adopted by the Diet a few months ago, was praised by General MacArthur—who never has denied having had a hand in writing it.

The FEC and MacArthur still disagree, the informants said, on these points:

1. The FEC recently said retention of the emperor system was not in keeping with the broad aim that the Japanese people should possess sovereignty. It presumably fears the emperor might be a symbol around which a non-democratic form of government could rise.

MacArthur wants to retain Hirohito as an agent through whom he can reach the Japanese people.

2. The FEC looked askance at the constitutional method of selecting a prime minister. It suggested the house of representatives alone should do that.

MacArthur is satisfied with the constitutional provision that the prime minister be named by the Diet, comprising the houses of representatives and councillors, with the former body having the deciding voice in case of disagreement.

3. The FEC suggested that its review of the constitution be made public.

MacArthur holds that any suggested reforms—such as proposed in the FEC review—would indicate the Allies were attempting "to force something down the Japanese throats."

MacArthur and the FEC also haggled over the cabinet, sovereignty and suffrage clauses in the constitution.

The FEC diplomatically rapped MacArthur for failing to carry out one of its policy decisions—to advise the Japanese they could consider, discuss and study the drafts of constitutions other than the one they adopted.

MacArthur also dissented with the FEC policy decision that the prime minister and majority of the cabinet members should be members of the Diet. He contended such a provision might keep out of office some Japanese who were better suited to cabinet posts than any member of the Diet.

High officials here say that MacArthur-FEC disagreement appears to center on these two points:

1. MacArthur feels that FEC is striving to attain immediately in Japan the ultimate in democracy. He believes the Japanese must work out their own problems and thus at least become acquainted with democratic practices and the process of attaining democracy.

2. The FEC would suggest to the Japanese certain revisions for the constitution. MacArthur fears this would imply a threat of Allied force against the Japanese if they didn't comply. He contends this would nullify any leanings toward democracy inculcated in the Japanese since the occupation began.

It is estimated that the U. S. depression in the '30s caused the postponement of about 800,000 marriages.

Firm Borrows Cash To Meet Weekly Payroll

SEYMOUR, Conn., Jan. 9 (P)—Harry A. Lee, treasurer of the Seymour Manufacturing company, said the concern had to float a special loan to meet its weekly payroll today because its bank balance had been attached by the Mine, Mill and Smelters Workers union (MIO).

The attachment resulted from a suit for $466,000 portal-to-portal pay filed by the union.

950,000 people were killed or injured in auto accidents last year! And the menace is growing! With the average car over eight years old, accidents involving defective equipment have more than doubled! In the four months after gas rationing ended, total auto deaths jumped 36%!

Certainly, somebody should do something about it. But the only one who can do anything really effective . . . is you! For most accidents come from carelessness . . . from the "little" chances we all take—the little repairs we neglect to make! Yes, it's up to you! You can cut down America's accident rate simply by not letting an accident happen to you. Watch yourself!

Do you try to make up time by speeding? Do you take curves too fast . . . or forget how quickly you lose control on wet, icy pavement? Last year 1 out of 3 auto deaths involved driving at unsafe speeds. Is it worth your life to save 5 minutes?

Do you figure a few drinks don't really affect your reactions? Why fool yourself—records reveal that drinking by pedestrian or driver played a part in 1 out of 4 traffic deaths last year. Play it safe—if you take a drink—don't take the driver's seat!

Do you chisel on stop signs—often sneaking through instead of coming to a full stop? Do you try to beat the light when it's turning red? Half of last year's auto deaths involved just such criminal carelessness. Better be safe than sorry.

Domestic Relations Court Cases Rise

By Staff Correspondent
NORRISTOWN, Jan. 9.—The statistical facts behind the domestic difficulties of hundreds of Montgomery countians was told today in the annual report submitted by Russel H. Richards, chief probation-desertion officer of the Montgomery county courts.
The report shows an increasing number of domestic relations cases —243 for the year as compared to 147 in 1945.

The number of active support cases as of Jan. 1 this year is 1121. Total cash receipts were $289,687 as compared to $221,834.
Active support orders totaled $271,065 as compared with $203,312 for the previous year.
The number of adult offenders placed on probation during 1946 was 87.
The greatest number in this group, 39, ranged from 21 to 30 years of age. The next greatest number, 22, were youths 16 to 20.

Mac Arthur and Far Eastern Commission Disagree on New Constitution for Japan

By TOM LAMBERT
TOKYO, Jan. 9 (AP)—Highest authoritative sources today reported the Far Eastern Commission has misgivings about the recently promulgated, war-outlawing Japanese constitution and will review it within three years after it becomes effective in May.

These informants said the FEC, which decides occupation policy for Japan, ruled the Japanese Diet will review the constitution also and the Japanese people may be called upon for their opinion.

The constitution, adopted by the Diet a few months ago, was praised by General MacArthur—who never has denied having had a hand in writing it.

The FEC ad MacArthur still disagree, the informants said, on these points:

1. The FEC recently said retention of the emperor system was not in keeping with the broad aim that the Japanese people should possess sovereignty. It presumably fears the emperor might be a symbol around which a non-democratic form of government could rise.

MacArthur wants to retain Hirohito as an agent through whom he can reach the Japanese people.

2. The FEC looked askance at the constitutional method of selecting a prime minister. It suggested the house of representatives alone should do that.

MacArthur is satisfied with the constitutional provision that the prime minister be named by the Diet, comprising the houses of representatives and councillors, with the former body having the deciding voice in case of disagreement.

3. The FEC suggested that its review of the constitution be made public.

MacArthur holds that any suggested reforms—such as proposed in the FEC review—would indicate the Allies were attempting "to force something down the Japanese throats."

MacArthur and the FEC also haggle over the cabinet, sovereignty and suffrage clauses in the constitution.

The FEC diplomatically rapped MacArthur for failing to carry out one of its policy decisions—to advise the Japanese they could consider, discuss and study the drafts of constitutions other than the one they adopted.

MacArthur also dissented with the FEC policy decision that the prime minister and majority of the cabinet members should be members of the Diet. He contended such a provision might keep out of office some Japanese who were better suited to cabinet posts than any member of the Diet.

High officials here say that MacArthur-FEC disagreement appears to center on these two points:

1. MacArthur feels that FEC is striving to attain immediately in Japan the ultimate in democracy. He believes the Japanese must work out their own problems and thus at least become acquainted with democratic practices and the process of attaining democracy.

2. The FEC would suggest to the Japanese certain revisions for the constitution MacArthur fears this would imply a threat of Allied force against the Japanese if they didn't comply. He contends this would nullify any leanings toward democracy inculcated in the Japanese since the occupation began.

It is estimated that the U. S. depression in the '30s caused the postponement of about 800,000 marriages.

Firm Borrows Cash To Meet Weekly Payroll

SEYMOUR, Conn., Jan. 9 (AP)—Harry A. Lee, treasurer of the Seymour Manufacturing company, said the concern had to float a special loan to meet its weekly payroll today because its bank balance had been attached by the Mine, Mill and Smelters Workers union (CIO). The attachment resulted from a suit for $466,000 portal-to-portal pay filed by the union.

HOW MANY TIMES DID YOU "JAY-WALK" THIS WEEK?

Accidents Don't Always Happen to Somebody Else! Check Up on the Chances You Take Every Day!

950,000 people were killed or injured in auto accidents last year! And the menace is growing! With the average car over eight years old, accidents involving defective equipment have more than doubled! In the four months after gas rationing ended, total auto deaths jumped 36%!

Certainly, somebody should do something about it. But the only one who can do anything really effective . . . is you! For most accidents come from carelessness . . . from the "little" chances we all take—the little repairs we neglect to make! Yes, it's up to you! You can cut down America's accident rate simply by not letting an accident happen to you. Watch yourself!

HE WAS "JAY-WALKING," TOO!

He'd made a habit of it . . . walking against the light at intersections . . . dashing across in mid-block. Like you, he'd gotten away with it so long he never gave the danger a thought. Yet 7,500 people were killed this way last year. Do you think it can't happen to you?
☐ I "jay-walk" when I'm in a hurry.
☐ I'm always careful crossing streets.

It's extra light
It's extra good

Sit down with friends tonight and fill the tall glasses with cold Sunshine . . . the beer that's extra light . . . and extra good. You'll like that crystal-clear body, the tiny winking bubbles, the frosty white head. At home or at your favorite tavern or club, be sure it's Sunshine, the beer that's extra light . . . extra good.

How many chances do you take every day?

☐ I exceeded the speed limit today.
☐ I never go over the speed limit.
Do you try to make up time by speeding? Do you take curves too fast . . . or forget how quickly you lose control on wet, icy pavement? Last year 1 out of 3 auto deaths involved driving at unsafe speeds. Is it worth your life to save 5 minutes?

☐ I mix drinking and driving.
☐ I never drive "under the influence."
Do you figure a few drinks don't really affect your reactions? Why fool yourself—records reveal that drinking by pedestrian or driver played a part in 1 out of 4 traffic deaths last year. Play it safe—if you take a drink—don't take the driver's seat!

☐ I only slow down at stop signs.
☐ I stop completely at every stop sign.
Do you chisel on stop signs—often sneaking through instead of coming to a full stop? Do you try to beat the light when it's turning red? Half of last year's auto deaths involved just such criminal carelessness. Better be safe than sorry.

43 Former, Present House Members Seek Pensions Under New Legislation

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (P)—Forty-three former and 133 present members of the House have applied for pensions under the Reorganization act, the biggest of which may range up to $9375 a year.

Among the applicants is former Rep. Andrew J. May (D-Ky.), who is 71. He may pay $2716 and get $3376 annually for life, or pay $4463 and receive $3958 a year.

While the names of the House applicants were made available today, Senate officials withheld decision on making public the names of senators and former senators who have applied. Ico Thompson, financial clerk, told reporters he could not release the information without authority from Carl Loefler, secretary of the Senate. Loefler said he wants to consult with the rules committee first.

With the deadline for final filing by incumbents almost six months away, scores more are expected to take advantage of the new law.

The applicants include:

May of Kentucky, who was defeated for re-election; Reps. Taber (R-N.Y.), chairman of the appropriations committee; Wadsworth (R-N.Y.), Bloom (D-N.Y.), Cannon (D-Mo.), Cox (D-Ga.), Eaton (R-N.J.), Michener (R-Mich.), Rayburn (D-Tex.), former speaker; Daniel A. Reed (R-N.Y.), Howard W. Smith (D-Va.), Short (R-Mo.), J. Parnell Thomas (R-N.J.) and Carl Vinson (D-Ga.).

Ex representatives in addition to May include Jed Johnson (Ola-haw), John Cochran, Missouri; Hutton Summers, Texas; Malcolm Tarver, Georgia; Louis Rabaut, Michigan; and Carroll Reece, Tennessee chairman of the Republican national committee.

Present members can draw no money as long as they are in Congress, but their contributions start immediately at the rate of six percent of their pay. Incumbents have until July 2 to apply.

The deadline for non-re-elected members of the 79th Congress the first Congress affected by the retirement plan, expired Jan. 3. Those who have reached the age of 62 can get their first check next month. Those under 62 but having the required years of service must wait until they are 62.

For ex-members a minimum flat contribution of $9716 makes them eligible for benefits if they have the required years of service and are old enough.

The amount a recipient receives depends on his age and length of service.

The reorganization law limits the maximum pension, regardless of length of service or age, 75 percent of the recipient's last annual salary. In the case of former congressmen, the maximum will be $7500, but to get that much the ex-member must make a flat payment of $14,789 to cover what he would have had to contribute if the pension plan had been in operation for 30 years.

Normally a man's pension is two and one-half percent of his last salary, multiplied by the number of years he has been in Congress.

The 2716 minimum covers only the last five years of service. Sum-mers, who retired after 33 years of service, is eligible for the $7500 if he pays $14,789. If he pays only the minimum $2716, he will draw $6182.

The applicants include: May of Kentucky, who was defeated for re-election; Reps. Taber (R-NY), chairman of the appropriations committee; Wadsworth (R-NY), Bloom (D-NY), Cannon (D-Mo.), Cox (D-Ga.), Eaton (R-NJ), Michener (R-Mich), Rayburn (D-Tex), former speaker; Daniel A. Reed (R-NY), Howard W. Smith (D-Va), Short (R-Mo), J. Parnell Thomas (R-NJ) and Carl Vinson (D-Ga.).

Ex-representatives in addition to May include John Johnson, Oklahoma; John Cochran, Missouri; Hutton Summers, Texas; Malcolm Tarver, Georgia; Louis Rabaut, Michigan; and Carroll Reece, Tennessee, chairman of the Republican national committee.

Present members can draw no money as long as they are in Congress, but their contributions start immediately at the rate of six percent of their pay. Incumbents have until July 2 to apply.

The deadline for non-re-elected members of the 79th Congress, the first Congress affected by the retirement plan, expired Jan. 3. Those who have reached the age of 62 can get their first check next month. Those under 62 but having the required six years of service must wait until they are 62.

For ex-members, a minimum flat contribution of $2716 makes them eligible for benefits if they have the required years of service and are old enough.

The amount a recipient receives depends on his age and length of service.

The reorganization law limits the maximum pension, regardless of length of service or age, to 75 percent of the recipient's last annual salary. In the case of former congressmen, the maximum will be $7500, but to get that much the ex-member must make a flat payment of $14,789 to cover what he would have had to contribute if the pension plan had been in operation for 30 years.

Normally, a man's pension is two and one-half percent of his last salary, multiplied by the number of years he has been in Congress.

The 2716 minimum covers only the last five years of service. Summers, who retired after 33 years of service, is eligible for the $7500 if he pays $14,789. If he pays only the minimum $2716, he will draw $6182.

On Mission

Chief of the British imperial staff, Field Marshal Lord Montgomery wears a heavy sheepskin coat for his arrival at an airfield in Moscow. Montgomery, arriving as a guest of the Soviet general staff, made it clear that his visit held no political significance. The field marshal paid high tribute to the Russian fighting man.

About one-third of U. S. factory workers process or fabricate materials produced on farms.

Treasure in the Icebox

HICKERY, DICKERY, DOCK—the three mice are at it again. England, Russia and the United States have started the next big race. This time it's not a clock they are running around, however. The race is for Antarctica, that great land mass around the South Pole. Few people realize that this vast, mostly unexplored continent is nearly as big as North America!

No country admits it is searching for mineral wealth. The United States says it wants to test arms, men and equipment in Little America's hazardous climate. The others aren't saying, but there are valuable minerals there. It is the opinion of many polar experts, that a large percentage of the Arctic's eight million square miles is a great rocky continent.

On his last trip there, America's Admiral Byrd found coal deposits. What else is there? Perhaps uranium, the stuff from which nightmares are made. Perhaps oil, without which Mars' bloody sword would rust to its scabbard. Never has man raided an icebox for so much important dishes, and never before did such a formidable door hide the contents from his view.

Who found it? Who owns it? Important question today, for down through history's pages are written bloody accounts of nations struggling with nations for land. It is from land that resources come and resources are the fuel of world power.

"Ease Up In a Freeze-Up"

THAT good advice for winter motorists comes from the National Safety Council. There's sound reasoning behind the catchy slogan. The Council's grim statistics show that automobile accidents jump 20 to 30 percent in snow-belt states during the winter.

In the first ten months of 1946 there were 27,520 traffic deaths. That's 25 percent more than 1945, when gasoline rationing was the law of the land for seven and a half months, but 14 percent less than 1941 when automobiles dealt death to 34,920.

The year 1946 got off to a bad start but the accident toll eased off after May when President Truman's Highway Safety Conference sent disciples of careful driving touring the nation. (In October, the latest month for which 1946 figures are available, 3120 were killed in accidents.)

Familiarity Breeds Contempt

JERRY KLUTZ, Washington Post columnist for Government workers, reports a new twist on Federal employees' demands for more pay.

An employee of the Bureau of Engraving (which prints the nation's money) once urged him to crusade for higher pay for that agency because:

"We handle millions of dollars a day at work; we develop a mental state which tends to make us extravagant with our own money after work; you can't have a healthy respect for a $20 bill of your own when you kick around $100 bills all day long at work. Most of us are in debt because we can't appreciate the value of money like other people."

A Very Credible Rabbit

A SURPRISED biologist of the Fish and Wildlife Service has returned from Alaska with news of a rabbit, or hare, that ran like a man. It simply stood up and departed on its two hind feet. But we are not surprised—only encouraged. For centuries ever-enthusiastic writers have been lyrical about men who "ran like a rabbit," or a hare, or a deer or antelope for that matter, and the figure of speech has become tiresome as well as inaccurate. Turn about in the animal kingdom is not only fair play, but downright original.

Zany Eyewear Stylish

ZANY styles in eyewear will leap to greater popularity than ever. That's what a Chicago woman optician predicts.

Nobody will wear plain glasses any more, she says. There'll be lizard frames with cases to match, pearl rims with matching choker and earrings, and thick frames with names engraved on the stems.

Pottstown eyeglass dealers aren't excited about fads however. They can always order almost any kind of eye contraption the customer wants. But individuality costs money, they add doily.

Grampaw Oakley

PUNKIN CORNERS, January 9.
Dear Sir 'n' Brother:

Wal, I see by the papers where some of the 1948 election campaign speeches will be televised. Pity the poor politician who finds that while his speech is on the beam, that he is out of focus!

The recent mild weather, I read, was caused by a warm breeze from Mexico. Yep, I distinctly noticed a light odor of tortillas and hot tamales!

And say: A Canadian suggests grasshoppers as a diet for rejuvenation. Somehow I can't get hopped up over the idea! Hopin' you air the same, GRAMPAW NED OAKLEY

Our Embarrassing Productivity

To the Editor: Does nobody foresee the result of the current mad race for more and more production? Despite obstacles, most war-caused shortages of consumer goods will be overcome within a comparatively short time.

Greater production will not prove a blessing to the common man until the problem of equitable distribution is solved. And the logical solution lies in a far lower price level in relation to the consumer's income.

To declare that wages cannot be boosted without an equivalent rise in prices is to imply that prices cannot be lowered without a proportionate lowering of wages. And this is a tacit admission that despite an abundance of physical resources and equipment, the people simply cannot hope for a greater share of the nation's wealth.

So what is to be done? If the masses are not able to assimilate the coming deluge of consumers' goods, only a miracle can prevent another collapse.

Divide Unions by 48

To the Editor: A solution to our present difficulties with labor that occurs to me is simple, yet I am sure you will agree it would prove effective. Unions are necessary, but there is no public interest served by having union membership that extends clear across the country. If national and international unions were abolished, I believe the union member and the public would benefit.

If unions were limited to state-wide membership, the threat of strikes crippling the country would be greatly decreased. The cost of membership would be greatly reduced by not having to support highly paid central organizations. At the same time, members would lose less time out by not being forced to strike over some grievance that may have occurred 3000 miles away.

The member would have more voice in his smaller union, but at the same time would have 100 percent protection on his job. His power with his individual employer would not be decreased.

Washington

By RAY JUCKER

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 — President Truman's appointment of General George Catlett Marshall, former Chief of Staff, the man who kicked the Axis with the help of 12,000,000 Joes, as Sec. of State in place of "capable" James Francis Byrnes, an old standby, has definite political meaning for now and for 1948.

It may be recalled that this column, only a week ago, forecast a far-reaching shakeup in the policies and the personnel of the State Department. Well, this is it.

DEMOCRAT: General Marshall's closest friends hope that he will not be Mr. Truman's running mate in 1948. They do not want his grand reputation as a military commander sacrificed on the altar of partisan politics. General Marshall, however, is an old-line Democrat from way back.

When he was a boy in Uniontown, Pa., 50 years ago or so, the opponents to West Point and Annapolis were controlled by Quincy-Vare-Penrose Republicans. Young Marshall, who pumped a Presbyterian Church organ on Sundays to penny his way through high school, had to get his military education at Virginia Military Institute at Lexington, Va., "the West Point of the South," where the great dead of Dixie lie asleep.

Thus, a Pennsylvania Democrat of humble origin, a great military commander and a lovable and fine gentleman becomes Mr. Truman's Secretary of State, and if anything happens to President Truman, a Pennsylvania-born and Virginia-trained man will become President and, of course, the Presidential stable dog is the General Marshall will be Mr. Truman's political running mate two years hence.

ADMISSION: The Marshall appointment, as this writer has tried to point out, means that President Truman regards the Far Eastern theater of politics and diplomacy as far more important than the European sphere of world affairs.

It is an admission that there we must eventually face the Great Bear on the battlefield or at the council table.

Moscow's reaction, as well as repercussions in other world capitals, is eagerly awaited at Washington, for the appointment of a military man to guide our affairs of state is almost without precedent.

SCRAMBLING: President Truman's two messages—his report on the state of the union and his economic budget—have changed the political, economic and social climate at Washington. The Republicans are now scrambling to find controversial issues for the Presidential campaign of 1948. The so-called "liberals" are screaming that "Harry Truman has scrapped the new freedom of Woodrow Wilson and the New Deal of Franklin Roosevelt."

They don't know where to go, politically, although the White House has a few profane ideas as to where they might land a year hence.

Capitol Hill Republicans are flabbergasted at the President's proposals in his diagnosis of the nation's health and in his economic prescription for the preservation of present-day prosperity. They admit that they can find few weak faults in it.

INTERPRETING THE NEWS

Dutch and Indonesians Darken Colonial Evolution

By JAMES D. WHITE
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

ONE of the brightest hopes for colonial evolution instead of revolution was dimmed this week in The Netherlands East Indies.

On Sumatra, the acrid smell of exploded cordite hung over the city of Palembang, where Dutch forces blasted Indonesian Republican forces with artillery and forced them to withdraw beyond a 12-mile radius around the town.

Among the fumes lingered the faint smell of the petroleum that once flowed into Palembang's great refineries and came out gasoline, kerosene, fuel oil and wax. As the Dutch reoccupied the area after a three-day battle, American and Dutch engineers could go back to repairing the refineries which they wrecked in 1942 just before the Japanese arrived.

The battle had shown once more how hard it is to make a complicated, long-term scheme for peaceful change—like the Dutch-Indonesian plan for independence—operate in an atmosphere charged with impatience and confusion.

For one thing, the true agreement of the past Fall was not working well. The Dutch said it broke down when local Indonesian commanders refused to observe occupation lines agreed upon higher up. The Indonesians said Dutch troops strode hard-heeled across the same lines. Meanwhile, elements on both sides had turned to talking tough and sometimes shooting before that.

The radical Indonesian vice-president, Mohammed Hatta, boasted in Java. "We are strong enough to throw them (the Dutch) into the sea."

He said this after, not before, the Dutch had battered Indonesians three days and issued an ultimatum for them to get out of Palembang.

Behind the Palembang blow-up may be a certain long-range tension over oil, though not necessarily about the Palembang refineries themselves.

The republic's minister of economics, A. K. Gani, is a Sumatran official who has promoted the oil but who recently said this about the policy:

"We recognize that the refineries and other installations are owned by international capital. Under our constitution, however, the oil lands themselves belong to the people of Indonesia. It is a question of social justice that they receive benefits from these lands. We hold that the oil companies must renegotiate contracts to exploit these lands with the republic. We do not recognize the former contracts with the Dutch administration."

At least three large American oil companies have important interests in the Indonesian oil industry, over which there is bound to be an argument one of these days.

Actions and words by individuals appear to have caused most of the trouble thus far in the Indies. Nothing like the head-on clash of rebellious natives with the colonial forces of French Indo-China has occurred to date.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

EARL S. LARSON, aged about 38, is president of the First Federal Savings and Loan association in Moline, Ill.

"Appropos of the Evansville case of the sergeant who wanted to borrow $4000 for a honeymoon, I can cite many others almost as bad, he said with a wry smile, as we headed for my address before his After Dinner club.

"People who seem ostensibly intelligent will often demonstrate a juvenile understanding of money. They may seem almost childlike as regards financing a home.

"Not long ago a young fellow and his wife came who wanted to borrow $4000 to buy a home, and expected to utilize Uncle Sam's $4000 backing of the veterans.

"This is the house we'd like to purchase," they pointed it out, but I reminded them that its price was $13,000.

"They glibly informed me that Uncle Sam would put up the $4000. But I showed them that still left $9000 for them to pay.

"The man had an income of $45 per week. Before long they would probably have a baby or two, with hospital bills and medical expenses.

"The cost of food and fuel, as well as the innumerable other small drains on their budget, would keep them practically bankrupt before they ever tried to meet their monthly payments, including taxes and interest.

"They had not laid up any money, so their background didn't augur well as regards their ability to save money in the future.

"Dr. Crane, something must be seriously wrong with our educational system when people can reach adulthood without having more than a juvenile understanding of money."

For the past 15 years we have been in a regimented government where men and women have felt that Uncle Sam would look after them.

"Let the government take over the factories!" they have exclaimed.

"Let the government take over the mines!"

"We don't need to worry any more, for Uncle Sam will put us on the WPA and care for us."

This juvenile philosophy of letting some glorified adult "papa" assume all the financial and intellectual decisions is what put Europe into its present state of socialism and Communism.

In a "free enterprise" system, the individual stands out. He plans his own career and finances it by hard work and saving. He opens his own shop or, like Ford, converts a backyard garage into an auto company.

But such behavior entails work and study and a lifetime of sacrifice. Most people want quick success. They will glibly sell themselves and their children, as the ancient Egyptians did to Pharaoh and Joseph. If the government will feed them.

Actually, Europe likes to goostep, for that relieves the citizen of thinking. He just follows orders.

That vicious European philosophy has inundated virile "free enterprise" America to such a dangerous degree that we must fight to salvage those principles that have made us great.

We must teach people to solve their own problems and save their own money, instead of encouraging them to look to Washington, D. C.

Public schools should immediately teach home budgeting and practical finance, including how to purchase a house on the instalment plan.

"SUN NEVER SETS—!"

In Hollywood

By JIMMIE FIDLER

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 9 — Consider the success story of Gregory Peck—and quit wondering why so many hopeful youngsters trek to Hollywood each year in an effort to storm studio gates.

It's been only two-and-a-half years since Peck was an unknown, as far as movie audiences were concerned, yet today, as the star of two of the biggest productions in Hollywood history, most Hollywoodites are willing to accord him a place among the 10 top male stars of the screen. As "The Yearling" and "Duel in the Sun" go into general release, I'll miss my guess if he doesn't reach the very top of the ladder and finish 1947 as the undisputed No. 1 male personality in Hollywood.

Peck is a fine actor, no doubt about that. But he's not enough better than the many other fine actors in pictures to have made so sensational a climb without a notable assist from Lady Luck. His good fortune lies in the fact that he has been handed nothing but good roles in outstanding films—"Days of Glory," "Keys of the Kingdom," "Valley of Decision," "Spellbound," "The Yearling" and "Duel in the Sun." Had he been less lucky in that respect, he still would be just another capable leading man.

In what other business could a 28-year-old "beginner" (and that's what he was when he came here to make his bid for fame) have achieved such startling success in so short a time? What wonder is it that other young actors, convinced of their own ability, are willing to gamble against tremendous odds in the hope of winning such remarkable rewards?

MEMORIES THAT BLESS

AND BURN: When Bing Crosby sent one of his most recent photographs, under another name, to a fan magazine that was running a contest to select his "double" — and it failed to win so much as an honorable mention — When Doug (Wrong Way) Corrigan, guaranteed $50,000 for a single movie appearance, shocked Hollywood by taking a nine-dollar-a-week hotel room for the duration of the picture . . . When Mabel Normand, touched by the hard-luck story of an extra girl, reached in her pocketbook to give her money, found it empty and impulsively donated a diamond ring worth several hundred dollars.

About six years ago a young Powers model named Tanis Chandler came to Hollywood to try her luck in pictures. She played a few unimportant bits, but failed to earn enough to support herself and her mother. To augment her income, she started working of evenings as a "baby-sitter," and soon made the sideline a lucrative business. Eventually, she converted her home into a day nursery, filled to capacity with 30 moppets and three helpers. Then irony took a hand in the game. One of the children was the son of an actor's agent. Meeting Miss Chandler, and hearing the story of her try for a screen career, he promptly put her under contract, sent her to a top-notch drama coach, and got her a long-term ticket with a major studio. Which all goes to prove, I suppose, that Lady Luck still rules Hollywood.

Cabinet Resigns In Peru; Slaying Of Editor Unsolved

LIMA, Peru, Jan. 9 (P)—The entire Peruvian cabinet resigned today in a governmental crisis precipitated by the unsolved slaying of a newspaper editor who was an outspoken critic of the administration of President Jose Luis Bustamante y Rivero.

The resignation of Premier Ernesto Portuondo and his ministers came after a long meeting with the president last night, apparently called to discuss the slaying of Francisco Grana Garland, acting chief editor and president of the board of the independent newspaper La Prensa.

Portugal, in his formal statement, did not mention the crime. The official reason given for the resignation was an expressed desire on the part of seven of the ten ministers to give the president free rein in choosing a government at the present time.

Three members of the radical Aprista party, in a separate statement, said they resigned because of "the political situation created by the stupid and untenable exploitation by the reactionary press of Grana Garland's assassination."

This stand, they said, was dictated by the national executive committee of the People's (Aprista) party, and they added that their withdrawal would permit the government to investigate the killing freely without the possibility of charges of bias.

The party of the three ministers is a staunch advocate of advanced social reforms.

Business was halted throughout the capital during the day in an unofficial "mourning and protest day" declared by business, banking and industrial organizations.

Information on the killing itself still was meager, because no witnesses have been found.

Police said the gunman who cut down the editor had been dissuaded, and that he escaped in an automobile.

Long lines of mourners filed slowly into the La Prensa building, where the body lay in state yesterday and today. At the grave were great quantities of floral offerings brought by mourners.

POWER WORKERS END STRIKE

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 9 (P)—Yielding to union leaders' pleas to "serve the public during this cold weather," 465 striking service employees of the Equitable Gas company voted today to call off their week-old work stoppage for higher wages.

Fuel Supply, Snowstorm Cause Forced Landing

GREENSBURG, Jan. 9 (P)—Low on gasoline and lost in a snowstorm, a small Navy bomber training plane crash landed in Westmoreland county near Blairsville today. Two of the three Navy airmen in the craft were slightly injured.

The plane was enroute to Chicago from Quantico, Point R. I. piloted by Lt. Comdr. James M. Hooper.

Mexico City at the southeastern edge of the Valley of Mexico, is built on the site of Tenochtitlan, capital of the ancient Aztec Empire.

French Complaint Over Oil Agreement Rejected by U. S.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (AP)—The United States has rejected a French complaint over a recent agreement in the Middle East that involved two major American oil companies.

This was disclosed today by a State department spokesman. He told reporters the United States regarded the matter as a private affair between companies and not an inter-governmental problem.

French Ambassador Henri Bonnet saw Undersecretary of State William L. Clayton Monday to tell him of France's concern over the deal.

The basis of France's representation was that Standard Oil of New Jersey and Socony Vacuum Oil should not have been allowed to buy a reported 40 percent of the rights to oil in Saudi Arabia.

These two American oil companies and companies belonging to French, British and Dutch companies had agreed not to exploit oil resources within the so-called "red line" independently of one another.

The "red line" area was described by government officials as the territory formerly held by the Turkish Ottoman empire which includes Saudi Arabia.

Government officials said the United States had told Bonnet that it could not enter into the argument since British courts were about to test the legality of the 1928 "red line" agreement between these companies to determine whether it had been invalidated during the war because of trading with the enemy complications.

Indianapolis Workers Refuse Portal Suit

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 9 (AP)—Two thousand employees of an Indianapolis plant refused today to file a portal-to-portal back-pay suit.

Charles E. Walker, editor of the publication of Local 1601, United Electric, Radio and Machine Workers of America (UO), said the members voted almost unanimously not to file such a suit against P. R. Mallory and company. The suit would have involved more than $1,000,000.

Walker said one member voted in favor of filing suit. He said the decision not to file was taken in the face of insistence by the international union that the suit be filed.

VATICAN DENIES REPORT

VATICAN CITY, Jan. 9 (AP)—A high Vatican source said tonight that nothing was known in Vatican circles of a report published abroad quoting the Italian press to the effect that Pope Pius XII planned to abolish the Vatican secretariat and create a chancery with Cardinal Francis J. Spellman, of New York, as its likely head.

Diehm and Dittich Given Consideration For Cabinet Jobs

HARRISBURG, Jan. 9 (P)—Names of possibilities for Governor-elect James H. Duff's cabinet began to appear in political discussions today.

At Lancaster, G. Graybill Diehm, Lancaster county Republican leader, disclosed he has been offered a cabinet post in the incoming administration which will take office Jan. 21 with Duff's inauguration.

At the same time, political circles in Pittsburgh heard that Superior Court Judge W. Heer Dittich was being considered for attorney general, the post Duff held in former Governor Martin's cabinet.

Duff neither denied nor confirmed Diehm's statement. Asked for comment, he said, "I have none whatever" to make.

Diehm said in Lancaster the offer was made at conference with the incoming executive here yesterday. He declined to specify which post was offered and added: "I have the offer under consideration. I have not made up my mind to accept or reject."

The break in the silence that has surrounded the picking of the new governor's official family brought immediate speculation in Republican quarters whether Diehm was under consideration for secretary of property and supplies.

That post is now held by Chester M. Woodworth of Lancaster, an appointee of former Governor Martin.

Diehm, Lancaster county commissioner since 1931, is noted as an administrator and played a big role in the construction and freeing of the Columbia-Wrightsville bridge over the Susquehanna river.

The department of property and supplies post will be a key one in the new administration in view of the multi-million building program now contemplated by Duff.

He already has given the department the green light for expansion of the state's overcrowded mental hospitals with the construction of a new building at Philadelphia hospital at Biberly the first undertaking.

Judge Dittich, former Common Pleas court judge, assistant U. S. attorney and Allegheny county solicitor, said he has "no comment" on the reports he will be named attorney general. If he took the post, it would mean a $8,000 a year salary since he received $18,000 as a Superior court judge.

David W. Harris, present revenue secretary, and mentioned as likely to be asked to remain on in the place, was said in published reports as being ready to give "undivided attention" to his duties in reappointed Harris, who is Philadelphia GOP chairman, was immediately unavailable for comment.

Later Harris, in Philadelphia, issued a statement saying "regardless of my status with the incoming State administration, I will remain a Philadelphian to the fullest degree."

He also declared "I have no intentions of stepping out as chairman of the Republican central campaign committee of Philadelphia" and added selection of a city chairman is up to the members of that committee.

Meanwhile, other present cabinet members mentioned most frequently as likely to be retained by Duff included: Charles M. Morrison, secretary of the Commonwealth; Miss Horst, secretary of agriculture; Richard Maize, secretary of mines; Col. C. M. Wilhelm, commissioner of State police and Ray F. Snook, secretary of highways.

On the other hand, Brig. Gen. Frank A. Weber, now deputy adjutant general, has been endorsed by veterans' organizations for the adjutant general. Previously the American Legion recommended the Beaver county man for the place in Duff's cabinet.

Speculation on Duff's possible choice for the key post of secretary included David R. Perry, of Altoona, special deputy attorney general assigned to the bureau of unemployment compensation, and Arthur Burgoyne, former Pittsburgh newspaperman, who accompanied Duff on his campaign tours.

In Louisiana's sugar country, the humidity usually is higher than at any other point in the United States.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 18 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent urination, passing water with burning and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause backache, rheumatism, pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's gives happy relief and will help the 18 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Diehm and Dithrich Given Consideration For Cabinet Jobs

HARRISBURG, Jan. 9 (P) — Names of possibilities for Governor-elect James H. Duff's cabinet began to appear in political discussions today.

At Lancaster, G. Graybill Diehm, Lancaster county Republican leader disclosed he has been offered a cabinet post in the incoming administration which will take office Jan. 21 with Duff's inauguration.

At the same time, political circles in Pittsburgh heard that Superior Court Judge W. Heber Dithrich was being considered for attorney general, the post Duff held in former Governor Martin's cabinet.

Duff neither denied nor confirmed Diehm's statement. Asked for comment, he said, "I have none whatever" to make.

Diehm said in Lancaster the offer was made at conference with the incoming executive here yesterday. He declined to specify which post was offered and added, "I have the offer under consideration. I have not made up my mind to accept or reject."

The break in the silence that has surrounded the picking of the new governor's official family brought immediate speculation in Republican quarters whether Diehm was under consideration for secretary of property and supplies.

That post is now held by Chester M. Woolworth of Lancaster, an appointee of former Governor Martin.

Diehm, Lancaster county commissioner since 1931, is noted as an administrator and played a big role in the construction and freeing of the Columbia-Wrightville bridge over the Susquehanna river.

The department of property and supplies post will be a key one in the new administration in view of the multi-million building program now contemplated by Duff.

He already has given the department the green light for expansion of the State's overcrowded mental hospitals with the construction of a new building at Philadelphia hospital at Byberry the first undertaking.

Judge Dithrich, former Common Pleas court judge, assistant U. S. attorney and Allegheny county solicitor, said he has "no comment" on the reports he will be named attorney general. If he took the post, it would cost him $6000 a year in salary since he received $18,000 as a Superior court jurist.

David W. Harris, present Revenue secretary, and mentioned as likely to be asked to remain on in the place, was said in published reports as being ready to give "undivided attention" to his duties if reappointed. Harris, who is Philadelphia GOP chairman, was immediately unavailable for comment.

Later Harris, in Philadelphia, issued a statement saying "regardless of my status with the incoming State administration, I will remain a Philadelphian to the fullest degree."

He also declared "I have no intentions of stepping out as chairman of the Republican central campaign committee of Philadelphia," and added selection of a city chairman is up to the members of that committee.

Meanwhile, other present cabinet members mentioned most frequently as likely to be retained by Duff included:

Charles M. Morrison, secretary of the Commonwealth; Miles Horst, secretary of agriculture; Richard Maize, secretary of mines; Col. C. M. Wilhelm, commissioner of State police and Ray F. Smock, secretary of highways.

On the other hand, Brig. Gen. Frank A. Weber, now deputy adjutant general, has been endorsed by veterans' organizations for the adjutant general. Previously the American Legion recommended the Beaver county man for the place in Duff's cabinet.

Speculation on Duff's possible choice for the key post of secretary included David R. Perry, of Altoona, special deputy attorney general assigned to the bureau of unemployment compensation, and Arthur Burgoyne, former Pittsburgh newspaperman, who accompanied Duff on his campaign tours.

In Louisiana's sugar country, the humidity usually is higher than at any other point in the United States.

Finance Procedure Is Outlined for Borough Officials

"Finance" was the subject for discussion last night in the council chamber of borough hall when the Montgomery County Boroughs association's training course for municipal officials and employees was held. The speaker was Arnold Forrest, solicitor of Conshohocken.

Forrest warned councilmen against allowing prospective bidders on contracts to prepare specifications. He said this had led to trouble in the past. When a contract is awarded it must be followed out to the letter. No favoritism must be shown.

No councilman can be awarded a contract for an amount exceeding $25 per month or $300 in a year. Any member of council who votes for a contract to a fellow member can be charged.

Roll calls should always be taken when money is to be spent. He said if a councilman fails to vote when an illegal measure is passed he is just as liable for a surcharge as those who voted for it. If he votes against it, he is absolved.

He also discussed bonds and said the amount of a bond required should be measured by the largest amount the official is liable to handle at one time.

Borough Manager Dow I. Sears, Borough Electrician William H. Price, Eugene Swinehart, Tax Collector Thomas L. Rutter and others took part in the discussion. The session was attended by about 50 men identified with governments of boroughs in the upper end of the county.

Dr. Parks Will Speak At Community Vespers

Dr. J. Edgar Parks, will be the speaker at the Community Vesper service to be held Sunday afternoon in the First Methodist church. He will speak at The Hill school in the morning. The community vespers are sponsored by the Pottstown Ministerial association.

Awards Conferred At Court of Honor For Area's Scouts

Continental District, Boy Scouts, held a court of honor and board of review last evening in Trinity Reformed church.

Rank of Life Scout was conferred on Fred Hart, Evansburg troop, and Robert Mayberry, Schwenksville troop. Star Scout rating was given Carl Witzel, Linfield troop; Laverne Gaugler, Stowe, and Robert Yeager, Pottstown Troop 10.

New First Class Scouts are as follows: Paul Metzger Jr., Drexel Hill Troop 4; Curtis Wilhelm, Pottstown Troop 1; Gerald Hoff, Royersford; John Frankenberg and Norman H. Stedler, of Limerick troop.

Second Class Scouts are Freddy Papucci, Troop 10; Walter L. Syphard Jr., Rodney Berriker and Ronald Keifreider, Troop 4, and Gene Michaels, Royersford Troop 2.

Ment badges were conferred as follows: Royersford Troop 2 — Carl

W. Straub, woodwork, and John Undercoffler, carpentry; Collezville troop — John Manning, woodcarving, and home planning; Schwenksville—Paul Schubert, public health and cycling; Royersford Troop 1—O. Ernest Kline, home repairs; Pottstown Troop 6—Bruce Buck, first aid, and Daniel Bechtel, first aid; Evansburg — Charles C. Ramsey, safety, and Arthur K. Jordan, public health; Troop 10—Harry De Walt, personal and public health and pathfinding; Rohland Ellis, public health and safety; Troop 8 — Oscar H. Darlington, firemanship.

Edgar Donahower was in charge of the court. He was assisted by Harold Le Baron, J. Russell Geiger Sr., Paul Copenhaver, William Glenner, Ralph Michaels, O. L. Hart, Earl C. Kummerer, Norman Stedler, Frank L. Manning, Amos M. Shaner, Clarence A. Fox, Claude Kulp, Lester Reesor and Roy Geiger. The latter was clerk of the court.

BRITISH STRESS —

ment sources said the cabinet had agreed to stand pat in a stand that the Sudan must be left free to decide its own future. The demand for its incorporation into Egypt has been a principal obstacle in the way of agreement. Informal talks are continuing in Cairo.

The cabinet also had decided to ask the United Nations Security Council to support British demands upon Albania for reparations for loss of life and damage to two destroyers which struck mines in Corfu channel, for which Albania has disclaimed guilt.

Palestine, however, has been the problem uppermost in the talks being held by Evin, colonial secretary Arthur Creech Jones and Gen. Sir Alan Cunningham, Palestine high commissioner.

Cunningham, according to a report given wide credence here, has been given more power to deal with Palestine violence.

Franco Relaxes

A dictator on his days off apparently behaves like most other leisure-seeking portals. Here a cameraman, trailing Generalissimo Franco, catches "El Caudillo" during a fishing and hunting excursion in the Spanish mountains. Recently, in U.N. sessions in New York, Franco was declared to be a menace to world peace and ambassadors were ordered recalled.

Three Trainmen Die; Locomotive Explodes

ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 9 (AP)—Three trainmen were killed and four cars of the 11-car westbound Empire Builder's Pullman section were derailed tonight when the locomotive blew up near Crary, N. D., 338 miles west of St. Paul, Great Northern railway officials said.

The victims were: Engineer Reginald Bennett and Fireman Wilbert Hoff, both of Grand Forks, N. D., and E. A. Zentler, a district roadmaster for the railway who had boarded the locomotive at Grand Forks to return to his Larimore, N. D., headquarters.

L. E. Cordingley, the conductor, who made the first report of the mishap over a farmhouse telephone, said several members of the dining car crew had been hurt and one woman passenger injured, none of them seriously.

Cars that Cordingley said were derailed were two tourist sleepers, the smoking and dining cars. Six standard Pullmans and the combination observation-car remained on the rails. The train left St. Paul at 9:50 a. m. (Pottstown time) today for the West coast and the station agent at Crary said it had passed through there at 8:25 o'clock tonight. The mishap occurred two and one-half miles west of that town.

Railroad headquarters here said all communication lines along the right-of-way had been torn out by the blast of the boiler on the oil-burning steam locomotive.

Royersford Post Presented Colors by Pottstown VFW

More than 40 members of Pottstown Post 780, Veterans of Foreign Wars, went en masse to Royersford last night following their regular meeting at the VFW home.

In Royersford they presented Post 6341, VFW, with its national flag and organization colors. The Royersford post was established March 10, 1946.

The meeting which preceded the presentation was short. Earl F. Antrim, commander of the post, was elected president of the Bucks-Montgomery county VFW baseball league.

All-American Air Show Starts in Miami Today

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 9 (AP)—Weather that had threatened to delay many out-of-state participants in the 15th annual All-American air maneuvers tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday, was clearing today and more than 500 Army, Navy, Marine and private aircraft arrived for the carnival.

Maneuver officials estimated that more than a thousand planes had arrived thus far. Another thousand are expected before the air show ends Sunday.

HOTEL PRICES —

said. "Some day I'll have to raise them 50 to 75 cents, since I can't make a profit from their rooms under present conditions."

Come Spring or Summer, Keseler hopes to be able to do more remodeling. It is then that any rise in transient rates would take place, since the remodeling plans call for combining two or three rooms to make singles complete with showers, etc., and costing more.

West Chester Grangers Install Norco Officers

A delegation from Brandywine Grange, West Chester, installed the 1947 officers of North Coventry Grange last night. Mrs. C. Rudolph Kulp, whose husband was master last year, became the new master.

Other officers who took their oaths for the coming year were Walter Kerlin, overseer; Leonard Bauman Sr., lecturer; Harold Kulp, steward; Earl Kerlin, assistant steward; Mrs. Emma Spiese, chaplain; Mrs. J. H. Gaut, treasurer; Mrs. George Yocom, recording secretary; John Krips, financial secretary; Leonard Bauman Jr., gate keeper; Birdella Bardorf, Ceres; Phyllis Kulp, Pomona; Verna Rouss, Flora; and Phebe Syphard, lady assistant steward.

Presiding over the installation proceedings was Clarence Kemery, of the Brandywine grange. The election was held Nov. 14.

Truman Made Editor, But It's a Mistake

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Jan. 9 (AP)—The Harvard Crimson has unlearned President Truman's unapologetic—that he has not been made an honorary editor of the undergraduate daily.

A practical joker sent a letter to the President that he had been chosen—a report that brought a formal acknowledgement from the White House.

Crimson Editor Robert Sturgis wrote Mr. Truman that the newspaper had an ironclad rule against honorary editors, explaining the whole thing was a prank.

Good naturedly, the President replied that he wasn't upset as he had developed a skin "elephant truck."

President Applauds Orchestra Concert

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (AP)—President Truman stood and applauded tonight in tribute to director Serge Koussevitzky at the conclusion of a concert by the Boston

Symphony orchestra in Constitution hall.

The President's wife and daughter, Margaret, whom he escorted to the concert, were enthusiastic too about the performance.

The presidential family returned to the White House immediately after the performance.

Truman Made Editor, But It's a Mistake

A dictator on his days off apparently behaves like most other leisure-seeking portals. Here a cameraman, trailing Generalissimo Franco, catches "El Caudillo" during a fishing and hunting excursion in the Spanish mountains. Cars that Cordingley said were derailed were two tourist sleepers, the smoking and dining cars. Six standard Pullmans and the combination observation-club car remained on the rails. The train left St. Paul at 9:50 a. m. (Pottstown time) today for the West coast and the station agent at Crary said it had passed through there at 8:20 o'clock tonight. The mishap occurred two and one-half miles west of that town.

Missions Council Plans Assistance To Vet Students

BUCK HILL FALLS, Jan. 9 (P)—The Home Missions council of North America, representing 23 major Protestant denominations, today announced it would estab- lish a student veterans emergency committee to aid families now liv- ing in temporary quarters on or near college and university cam- puses.

"After the praiseworthy efforts of the churches to follow their young people while in military service," declared the Rev. Don S. Pielstick, field representative of the Home Missions body who will direct the service, "it would be nothing less than tragic negligence to desert them in the great period of ad- justment."

The committee will serve primar- ily those Protestant veterans and their families who are housed in temporary, makeshift communities in at least a score of educational centers in the country and who have no particular link to campus religious activities.

The Rev. Pielstick said a thorough survey of the religious needs of these temporary com- munities will be launched this month and that later, local committee will be organized, representing church, university and community agencies, to carry on programs initiated or recommended as an outgrowth of the survey.

The committee will be composed of two representatives from the Federal Council of Churches, two from the Home Missions council, and six from the United Student Christian council.

"This opportunity," said the Rev. Pielstick, "is doubly important be- cause the church must see to it that Christianity is a fundamental part of their thinking as they plan for the future."

The council voted also to launch an experimental project in religious ministry next Summer to Negro students employed in Atlantic City, N. J., hotels. The project will be carried on by the council in co- operation with local agencies.

The week-long annual meeting closes tomorrow following election of officers and an address by the outgoing president, Dr. Hermann N. Morse, executive secretary of the board of National Missions of the Presbyterian church in the U.S.A.

Mexico, with an area of 758,253 square miles, is the third largest country of Latin America.

major Protestant denominations, today announced it would establish a student veterans emergency committee to aid families now living in temporary quarters on or near college and university campuses.

"After the praiseworthy efforts of the churches to follow their young people while in military service," declared the Rev. Don S. Pielstick, field representative of the Home Missions body who will direct the service, "it would be nothing less than tragic negligence to desert them in the great period of adjustment."

The committee will serve primarily those Protestant veterans and their families who are housed in temporary, makeshift communities in at least a score of educational centers in the country and who have no particular link to campus religious activities.

The Rev. Pielstick said a thorough survey of the religious needs of these temporary communities will be launched this month and that later, local committees will be organized, representing church, university and community agencies, to carry on programs initiated or recommended as an outgrowth of the survey.

The committee will be composed of two representatives from the Federal Council of Churches, two from the Home Missions council, and six from the United Student Christian council.

"This opportunity," said the Rev.
Pielstick, "is doubly important because the church must see to it that Christianity is a fundamental part of their thinking as they plan for the future."

The council voted also to launch an experimental project in religious ministry next summer to Negro students employed in Atlantic City, N. J., hotels. The project will be carried on by the council in cooperation with local agencies.

The week-long annual meeting closes tomorrow following election of officers and an address by the outgoing president, Dr. Hermann N.
Morse, executive secretary of the board of National Missions of the Presbyterian church in the U.S.A.

Mexico, with an area of 758,253 square miles, is the third largest country of Latin America.

Baptists to Hear Charles S. Drain

Charles S. Drain Jr., prominent Philadelphia layman, will speak at the church school night observance of the First Baptist church at 7:30 o'clock Sunday night.

The service which is open to the public, is being held under the direction of the Rev. Delaine E. Story, pastor of the church, and is in line with a series of special services being held each Sunday night.

Superintendent Douglas Nichols arranged the program of the evening, which will feature the 14-piece orchestra and the Triads, one of Pottstown's outstanding groups of singers, under the direction of Mrs.
Irma Miller.

Drain is vice president of the Pennsylvania Council of Christian Education, a past president of the Pennsylvania Christian Endeavor union and is serving as chairman of the board of directors of the union at the present time.

He also is an officer of the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School association, and has traveled extensively throughout this, as well as other states, speaking before church groups.

Three Local Banks To Elect Directors At Meetings Tuesday

Three national banks in Pottstown, the Citizens National, the National Iron Bank, and the National Bank of Pottstown, will observe Bank Day Tuesday.

The stockholders of the banks will meet on that day for the purpose of electing a board of directors for the coming year. None of the banks expect a change in the boards now serving the stockholders, although it is possible that new members may be elected.

Bank Day is traditionally observed

Knights of Columbus SECOND ANNUAL FAMILY BANQUET

Guest Speakers

Rev. John J. Manning, C.S.Sp., MA, Litt D., Professor of English, Philosophy, and Dean of Music at Duquesne University—William M. Lennox, State Deputy and Supreme Director of the Knights of Columbus and President of the University of Pennsylvania Athletic Association.

KNIGHTS—Bring Your Family and Friends

on the second Tuesday of January each year.

The tradition began when the National Bank System was created by the passage of the National Bank act. The office of the comptroller of currency, to facilitate the nationalization of the banks, prepared a model set of by-laws which the banks could follow if they chose. This model designated the second Tuesday of January as the day on which the annual stockholder's meeting would be held.

As they nationalized, banks adopted this model set of by-laws as their own, automatically creating Bank Day.

Following the precedent of the national banks, many State banks adopted this same day for their stockholder's meeting, although there is nothing in the law which compels them to meet then.

It is necessary to change the date of the meeting as for the stockholders to approve such a change in the by-laws of the bank.

STEEL OUTPUT INCREASES

NEW YORK, Jan. 9 (P)—The steel industry, handicapped by three major strikes in 1946, managed to turn out 66,363,848 net tons of steel representing an average operating rate of 72.2 percent of capacity, and the highest per capita output for any year prior to 1940, the American Iron and Steel Institute announced today.

British May Use Troops to Counter Truckers' Strike

LONDON, Jan. 9 (P)—An authoritative government source said today that the government was ready to use troops, if necessary, to assure distribution of London's food supplies, now tied up in markets by a strike of more than 13,000 truck drivers and other transport workers. With butcher shops throughout the city bare of meat and grocery stores reduced to the danger point, the ministry of labor ordered the workers to return to their jobs.

The government entered the dispute after a union meeting last night rejected a plea from union leaders to end the stoppage. The workers demand a boost in their $20 weekly pay and improved conditions.

"This is a strike against trade union advice and in some cases is

Senate Committee Wants Complete Probe Of War Contract Profits, Brewster Says

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—The Senate war investigating committee intends to find out who made how much in profits from the billions of dollars in war contracts, Senator Brewster (R-Me) said today.

Brewster, new committee chairman, told reporters the group also plans a "complete inquiry" into the housing shortage with special emphasis on veterans housing.

The committee's authority soon will expire and it must obtain a fresh grant of power from the Senate if it is to continue operations.

That new grant became virtually assured today when the rules committee voted to recommend it. The Senate, which may act tomorrow, seldom turns down its rules committee's recommendations.

The rules committee, headed by Senator Brooks (R-III) also decided the Senate should continue to have a special committee to investigate problems of small business.

It voted, however, to create a new committee in this field rather than continue one from the last Congress.

The practical effect of this maneuver was to put Senator Wherry (R-Nebr) in line to be chairman because he introduced a resolution for a new committee. If the old committee had been continued, Senator Wilson (R-Iowa) would have been in line for the chairmanship as the Republican member who had served on it longest.

Democrats on the rules committee voted against both actions. They protested that Democratic senators had not had opportunity to adopt a policy stand.

After the rules meeting, Brooks told reporters that neither Brewster nor Wherry had asked any funds to carry on their special committees.

Brewster said the war investigating group had sufficient money to go ahead with present work for about two months. The Senate has been providing it with about $200,000 a year since it was first established under President Truman when he was a senator.

The committee already has conducted some hearings on war profits but Brewster described these as "a few individual cases which seemed to be abuses." He said it is now planned to "review the whole situation."

He said the committee also would review its earlier plans to probe conduct of American forces and the military government in Germany and other occupied former enemy areas. Such an investigation of Germany was sidetracked just before start of the recent Congress on request of the State department and some senators.

Since then, Brewster commented, Gen. George C. Marshall has been named to succeed James P. Byrnes as Secretary of State and the United States military leadership in Germany and Australia has been changed.

Gromyko Charges U. S. Stalls Arms Slash by Atomic Stand

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Jan. 9 (AP)—In the face of Russian charges that the United States was stalling on the whole question of arms reduction, the American delegation to the United Nations stood firm tonight on a demand that control of atomic energy must come first.

"Effective international control of atomic energy is the key to the whole program and must come first," Herschel V. Johnson, U. S. delegate, told the Security Council emphatically at the outset of full-scale debate on the basis arms proposal laid down in December by the General Assembly.

Johnson took the floor after Soviet Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko recently named a deputy foreign minister, bluntly accused the United States of seeking to delay measures for general regulation and cutting of arms and armed forces. Gromyko said the American delegation had adopted a "take-it-or-leave-it attitude."

The Soviet delegate declared that the United States position boiled down to this:

"Either you agree to the American proposals on control of atomic energy and then we agree to the proposals on working out practical measures on the general reduction of armaments and armed forces, or—if everything does not go smoothly with the American proposals on control of atomic energy, then we refuse in general to occupy ourselves with the working out of measures for general reduction of armaments and armed forces."

Gromyko's speech was considered especially significant in that Russia, along with Poland, abstained in the final 10 to 0 vote for the basic Baruch control plan in the atomic energy commission.

"It would be difficult to achieve arms control without first having atomic control," Johnson declared. "In our view the field of atomic energy is the test case."

"We believe the council should assure substantial progress in the atomic field before taking up control and regulation of conventional arms, which is of subsidiary importance."

Johnson denied any attempt at delay and said his country was ready to agree to an arms regulation program provided the atomic issue was given priority.

Alexandre Parodi of France agreed there was a danger that atomic control might be immersed in the general disarmament question, but supported a Russian request that the council should immediately set up a commission to implement the assembly's basic arms slashing resolution.

U. S. REPEATS REQUEST FOR FREE ELECTION

Third Note Delivered To Polish Minister; Vote Slated Jan. 19

By LARRY ALLEN

WARSAW, Jan. 9.—The United States called upon the Communist-dominated Polish government again today to honor a pledge for free and unfettered elections, while the opposition Polish Peasant party leadership charged anew that free voting Jan. 19 would be impossible under existing conditions.

Vice Premier Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, leader of the Polish Peasant party (PSL), announced to a news conference that, despite a party decision to take part in the election in 42 of the nation's 52 electoral districts, the PSL still was prepared to boycott the balloting.

He said the party's executive committee retained power to reverse the decision to participate in the districts where the PSL candidate lists have been accepted, and would do so if coercion, intimidation of voters and the arrest and elimination of candidates continued.

The Warsaw government has not yet replied to the United States notes of Aug. 19 and Nov. 22 concerning the forthcoming elections. The new American note said that "suppression, coercion and intimidation" as applied to the political opposition in Poland violated the spirit of the Potsdam agreement to which, it reminded Warsaw, Poland was a party.

The note, handed to the Polish foreign minister today, expressed concern over "repressive measures which the government has seen fit to employ against democratic elements not aligned with the pro-government bloc." It said the United States was interested only in seeing that the Polish people had a chance to express their true will.

Britain has sent two notes to Poland along similar lines. In Washington Secretary of State Byrnes disclosed yesterday that notes were sent to Moscow and Leningrad charging the Polish government with failure to perform its obligations. In Moscow an informed source said the Soviet Union had replied by denying knowledge of irregularities on the part of the government bloc and described Mikolajczyk's complaints as preparation of the public for its defeat.

Mikolajczyk told his news conference that in the ten districts where his party candidates have been eliminated from the lists, there are 3,242,000 people, 22 percent of Poland's population—and more than 2,700,000 voters who will have no voice. In the ten districts a total of 76 of the 444 deputies will be elected. The vice premier said 248 Peasant party candidates had been stricken from the list by district election commissions.

The PSL's executive committee announced last night that it would campaign in the other 42 districts. Mikolajczyk explained that, despite existing conditions, he felt these people should be shown the party was acting legally, and should be given an opportunity to express their sentiments. He added, however, that there was no chance under present conditions that the true will of the people could be expressed.

Exchange Fission for Hunting

Spanish General Exiled by Franco

MADRID, Jan. 9 (AP)—Gen. Antonio Aranda Mata, Spanish monarchist leader who reputedly had sought to unseat Generalissimo Francisco Franco, has been ordered into exile for two months by the Franco government, his associates said today.

According to his friends, the 59-year-old officer, known as an enemy of the Fascist Falange, was told to go to Palma, a town on Spain's Mediterranean island of Mallorca. During the day Aranda alternately was accused and exonerated of anti-Franco intrigue in a military court where 14 leftist leaders were being tried on a charge of "military rebellion" against Franco two years ago.

An Army captain prosecuting the case cleared Aranda of "any contact which might stain his record." He described Aranda as "one of the worthiest Spanish generals" and praised his record.

Three of the defendants, however, gave testimony linking Aranda with leftists plotting to overthrow the Franco regime. Aranda himself had been sought by the defense as a witness. It was announced in court that "for reasons unknown" he would not appear.

Republicans outside Spain have mentioned Aranda as a possible governmental chief in the event of the removal of Franco.

Court Hears Debate On Foreman Issue

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (AP)—The National Labor Relations Board told the Supreme court today that the board's ruling that employers must bargain with foremen's unions had virtually eliminated strikes among plant bosses in the past year.

Arguing against unionization of foremen was Louis P. Daham, attorney for the Packard Motor Car company. He contended it is improper because, he said, foremen carry out management policy, make recommendation on the firing and wage rates of workers under them and sometimes instruct them in their work.

NLRB Counsel Gerhard P. Van Arkel, under questioning of Justice Rutledge, said that the board's position on the bargaining rights of foremen would apply also to corporation vice presidents.

Meanwhile, the NLRB announced it will hold up action on all foremen's cases until the Supreme court has ruled on whether a firm has to bargain with a union of its foremen.

The Packard company is appealing from the board's decision, upheld by the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati. The decision was that foremen are "employees" under protective provisions of the Wagner Labor Relations act.

Bombay Violence Takes Three Lives; Fifty Are Injured

BOMBAY, Friday, Jan. 10 (AP)—Three persons were killed and 50 others were injured, a communal riot issued today said when two trucks crashed through a funeral procession which had erupted into a rampage of fire setting and window smashing.

The incident climaxed new communal rioting which began in Bombay yesterday. During the disorders women were beaten with sticks and stones and acid was hurled into a passing motor vehicle.

Police said three groups of Indians were involved—Hindus, the so-called Scheduled caste, formerly the untouchables, and Moslems. In some instances it became a three-cornered battle with every man for himself, the police added.

S. K. Patel, president of the Bombay provincial Congress party committee, said his office had reports of 100 persons taken to hospitals. Police opened fire repeatedly to break up clashing mobs.

An earlier police communique, which did not mention any fatalities, said there were 23 stabbing incidents, four women were assaulted with sticks and stones, and eight persons in a truck were burned when acid was hurled at them. Twenty persons were killed.

The British imposed a seven-day curfew to operate between 6:30 p. m. and 6 a. m. Heavy police patrols armed with rifles and machine guns, cleared the streets as darkness fell. Tension was described as high.

Police said that a funeral procession passing through the Lal Baug section grew swiftly to fantastic size. Many of the processionists went on a rampage of smashing windows, stoning busses and setting fires.

Newsman on a tour of the affected area in the northern part of the city saw smashed windows, scattered remains of two large lumber piles and a smoking residential building. Furniture was strewn on the sidewalks.

Marshall Plans Rest Before Resuming Trip

HONOLULU, Jan. 9 (AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall, en route home to take up his new appointment as secretary of state, arrived in Honolulu late last night and planned to spend several days resting before continuing his journey.

Flying from China in his special C-54 the general arrived at Hickam field at 11 p. m. yesterday (4:30 a. m. today, Pottstown time).

Smiling and appearing fit despite the trans-Pacific flight, the general posed for pictures with his wife, who met him here, but declined any comment on his new job.

"I hope to rest here a few days," he said, "but, of course, that depends on what I hear from Washington."

Three-Week Siege Of Hanoi Lifted, French Are Told

PARIS, Jan. 9 (AP)—Dispatches from Hanoi said tonight that the three-week siege of that capital of Indochina by an estimated 10,000 Viet-Nam Nationalists had been lifted by French military successes of the past few days.

Meanwhile, a delayed dispatch received from Bangkok said the Viet-Nam president, Ho Chi Minh, had broadcast a message to the French people and parliament giving the conditions under which the Viet-Nam were ready to cease fighting in Indochina.

Government circles in Paris, however, were awaiting an official report from Colonial Minister Marius Moutet, scheduled to return Sunday from a tour of the troubled colonial possession. Moutet had indicated that he does not believe Ho is in full control of the rebelling natives.

A French general staff communique dealing with the situation at Hanoi said that communications now have been re-established with Haiphong on the seacoast and are being reopened with various inland communities.

Food supplies in Hanoi, which were becoming critically low, now can be restored, the communique said.

The Haiphong-Hanoi highway was cleared yesterday by the junction of a column of French troops moving inland from Haiphong with another column which had pushed out from Hanoi. Small mop-up operations were being conducted in Hanoi.

East of the capital, French motorized units supported by warplanes drove Viet-Nam forces ahead of them in a rapid advance, the communique said. The Viet-Nam were reported to be applying a scorched earth policy there.

At Namdinh, 50 miles southeast of Hanoi, French paratroopers and members of the original French garrison there still were isolated, but French general staff officers said the situation was considered "entirely satisfactory."

The paratroopers were dropped several days ago in a move to save the besieged garrison.

Gromyko Charges U. S. Stalls Arms Slash by Atomic Stand

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Jan. 9 (AP)—In the face of Russian charges that the United States was stalling on the whole question of arms reduction, the American delegation to the United Nations stood firm tonight on a demand that control of atomic energy must come first.

"Effective international control of atomic energy is the key to the whole program and must come first," Herschel V. Johnson, U. S. delegate, told the Security Council emphatically at the outset of full-scale debate on the basis arms proposal laid down in December by the General Assembly.

Johnson took the floor after Soviet Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko recently named a deputy foreign minister, bluntly accused the United States of seeking to delay measures for general regulation and cutting of arms and armed forces. Gromyko said the American delegation had adopted a take-it-or-leave-it attitude.

The Soviet delegate declared that the United States position boiled down to this:

"Either you agree to the American proposals on control of atomic energy and then we agree to the proposals on working out practical measures on the general reduction of armaments and armed forces, or—if everything does not go smoothly—with the American proposals on control of atomic energy, then we refuse in general to occupy ourselves with the working out of measures for general reduction of armaments and armed forces."

Gromyko's speech was considered especially significant in that Russia, along with Poland, abstained in the final 10 to 0 vote for the basic Baruch control plan in the atomic energy commission.

"It would be difficult to achieve arms control without first having atomic control," Johnson declared, "in our view the field of atomic energy is the test case."

"We believe the council should assure substantial progress in the atomic field before taking up control and regulation of conventional arms, which is of subsidiary importance."

Johnson denied any attempt at delay and said his country was ready to agree to an arms regulation program provided the atomic issue was given priority.

Alexandre Parodi of France agreed there was a danger that atomic control might be immersed in the general disarmament question, but supported a Russian request that the council should immediately set up a commission to implement the assembly's basic arms slashing resolution.

Spanish General Exiled by Franco

MADRID, Jan. 9 (AP)—Gen. Antonio Aranda Mata, Spanish monarchist leader who reportedly had sought to unseat Generalissimo Francisco Franco, has been ordered into exile for two months by the Franco government, his associates said today.

According to his friends, the 59-year-old officer, known as an enemy of the Fascist Falange, was told to go to Palma, a town on Spain's Mediterranean island of Mallorca.

During the day Aranda alternately was accused and exonerated of anti-Franco intrigue in a military court where 14 Leftist leaders were being tried on a charge of "military rebellion" against Franco two years ago.

An Army captain prosecuting the case cleared Aranda of "any contact which might stain his record." He described Aranda as "one of the worthiest Spanish generals" and praised his record.

Three of the defendants, however, gave testimony linking Aranda with Leftists plotting to overthrow the Franco regime. Aranda himself had been sought by the defense as a witness. It was announced in court that "for reasons unknown" he would not appear.

Republicans outside Spain have mentioned Aranda as a possible governmental chief in the event of the removal of Franco.

Court Hears Debate On Foreman Issue

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (AP)—The National Labor Relations Board told the Supreme court today that the board's ruling that employers must bargain with foremen's unions had virtually eliminated strikes among plant bosses in the past year.

Arguing against unionization of foremen was Louis F. Dahling, attorney for the Packard Motor Car company. He contended it is improper because, he said, foremen carry out management policy, make recommendation on the firing and wage rates of workers under them and sometimes instruct them in their work.

NLRB Counsel Gerhard P. Van Arkel, under questioning of Justice Rutledge, said that the board's position on the bargaining rights of foremen would apply also to corporation vice presidents.

Meanwhile, the NLRB announced it will hold up action on all foremen's cases until the Supreme court has ruled on whether a firm has to bargain with a union of its foremen.

The Packard company is appealing from the board's decision, upheld by the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati. The decision was that foremen are "employees" under protective provisions of the Wagner Labor Relations act.

Bombay Violence Takes Three Lives; Fifty Are Injured

BOMBAY, Friday, Jan. 10 (AP)—Three persons were killed and 50 others were injured, a communique issued today said when two trucks crashed through a funeral procession which had erupted into a rampage of fire setting and window smashing.

The incident climaxed new communal rioting which began in Bombay yesterday. During the disorders women were beaten with sticks and stones and acid was hurled into a passing motor vehicle.

Police said three groups of Indians were involved—Hindus, the so-called Scheduled caste, formerly the untouchables, and Moslems. In some instances it became a three-cornered battle with every man for himself, the police added.

S. K. Patil, president of the Bombay provincial Congress party committee, said his office had reports of 100 persons taken to hospitals. Police opened fire repeatedly to break up clashing mobs.

An earlier police communique, which did not mention any fatalities, said there were 23 stabbing incidents, four women were assaulted with sticks and stones, and eight persons in a truck were burned when acid was hurled at them. Thirty persons were jailed.

The British imposed a seven-day curfew to operate between 6:30 p. m. and 6 a. m. Heavy police patrols armed with rifles and machine guns, cleared the streets as darkness fell. Tension was described as high.

Police said that a funeral procession passing through the Lal Baug section grew swiftly to fantastic size. Many of the processionists went on a rampage of smashing windows, stoning busses and setting fires.

Newsmen on a tour of the affected area in the northern part of the city saw smashed windows, smoldering remains of two large lumber piles and a smoking residential building. Furniture was strewn on the sidewalks.

Marshall Plans Rest Before Resuming Trip

HONOLULU, Jan. 9 (AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall, en route home to take up his new appointment as secretary of state, arrived in Honolulu late last night and planned to spend several days resting before continuing his journey.

Flying from China in his special C54, the general arrived at Hickam field at 11 p. m. yesterday (4:30 a. m., today, Pottstown time).

Smiling and appearing fit despite the tiring flight, the general posed for pictures with his wife, who met him here, but declined any comment on his new job.

"I hope to rest here a few days," he said, "but, of course, that depends on what I hear from Washington."

Three-Week Siege Of Hanoi Lifted, French Are Told

PARIS, Jan. 9 (AP)—Dispatches from Hanoi said tonight that the three weeks' siege of that capital of Indochina by an estimated 10,000 Viet-Nam Nationalists had been lifted by French military successes of the past few days.

Meanwhile, a delayed dispatch received from Bangkok said the Viet-Nam president, Ho Chi Minh, had broadcast a message to the French people and parliament giving the conditions under which the Viet-Nam were ready to cease fighting in Indochina.

Government circles in Paris, however, were awaiting an official report from Colonial Minister Marius Moutet, scheduled to return Sunday from a tour of the troubled colonial possession. Moutet had indicated that he does not believe Ho is in full control of the rebelling natives.

A French general staff communique dealing with the situation at Hanoi said that communications now have been re-established with Haiphong on the seacoast and are being reopened with various inland communities.

Food supplies in Hanoi, which were becoming critically low, now can be restored, the communique said.

The Haiphong-Hanoi highway was cleared yesterday by the junction of a column of French troops moving inland from Haiphong with another column which had pushed out from Hanoi. Small mopping up operations were being conducted in Hanoi.

Part of the capital, French motorized units supported by warplanes drove Viet-Nam forces ahead of them in a rapid advance, the communique said. The Viet-Nam were reported to be applying a scorched earth policy there.

At Namdinh, 50 miles southeast of Hanoi, French paratroopers and members of the original French garrison there still were isolated, but French general staff officers said the situation was considered "entirely satisfactory."

The paratroopers were dropped several days ago in a move to save the besieged garrison.

was nation-wide." When asked if it included the steel industry, he said "that would depend on the circumstances of the emergency." He said the word "monopolized" could refer to union monopoly as well as employer monopoly.

Case said his bill would not give any private employers the right to get a labor injunction. The U. S. attorney general would have to do it.

Case wrapped into one package about 40 or 50 of the proposed labor law changes which Republicans and some Democrats have been talking about.

At the same time, the opposition was added to the bonds placed on Landis as he lay on the floor.

The bandits nudged Miss Cressman up the stairs to the second floor at gun point. Once there, according to Miss Cressman, they found that they lacked any material with which to bind her.

"One of the men guarded me while the other went to Lloyd's car and obtained a rope from the rear compartment which he brought back and tied my hands and feet," Miss Cressman told investigators.

Returning to the ground floor and Landis, the bandits used some of the left-over rope to bind him more securely, and then removed $12 from his wallet. They returned the wallet because "it contained nothing else of value," the youth later told police.

According to police, the bandits must have been returned to the car only to find that in parking it Landis had gone through a break in the surrounding fence and so "far off the road."

Unable to move the car, footprints in the mud revealed to investigators that the two men returned to the road, some 50 to 75 feet away, but there the tracks became lost.

After 15 minutes of searching for the car, Miss Cressman broke her bonds and ran to release Landis. Walking together across the muddy fields, Miss Cressman lost a shoe.

Upon arriving at the home of John Steele, about a half mile from the abandoned home, Landis called the Collegeville state police.

The two men were reported to have told Landis and Miss Cressman that they needed the couple's car for a getaway. They claimed that they had shot a man in another county, were being sought by police and had been hiding all day.

Collegeville police reported last night, however, that a thorough check of wanted persons and recent crimes within the area did not reveal any one dead in which the bandits might have been involved.

The bandits were described by their victims as being white, about 25 years of age, wearing dark overcoats and felt hats and of medium build. One flourished a much-used looking automatic revolver of .32 or .38 calibre.

Miss Cressman was taken to Schwenksville where she was treated by a local physician for shock, exposure and scratches.

"I know that," he said "but the rest of my family is supposed to be on foot, and tomorrow, the weatherman says it'll be warmer. With a forecast like that I'm going to have a neck of a time getting my snow on the ground."

As he left us nodding goodbye over his cold shoulder, we shook our heads in a display of sympathy for his actual relief. A look at the forecast revealed that the cold was about to change. Warmer days are predicted for the week-end.

Factually, the Snow Man shouldn't have missed yesterday. Temperatures were below freezing throughout the day. Breaking away from a 22 degree low at 9 a. m., the mercury could rise only to 29 degrees. This lasted from 3 to 6 p. m. when our friend started his first flurry.

The mercury slid into its nightly dip after that, while the white one tried his damndest at about 8 and 10 o'clock.

Coroner's Car Kills Youthful Coaster

WAYNESBURG, Jan. 9 (P)—Charles E. Haines, Greene county coroner, reported today he fatally injured a neighbor's youngster when the nine-year-old boy's sled coasted from an embankment into the path of the county official's car.

The victim was Frederick Humble, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Humble, of suburban Morrisville. Haines said he saw the youngster was unable to stop in time on the slippery highway. The lad, who suffered a fractured skull and arm, died six hours after the accident in the Greene county Memorial hospital.

NEW CASE BILL —

was nation-wide." When asked if it included the steel industry, he said "that would depend on the circumstances of the emergency." He said the word "monopolized" could refer to union monopoly as well as employer monopoly.

Case said his bill would not give any private employers the right to get a labor injunction. The U. S. attorney general would have to do it.

Case wrapped into one package about 40 or 50 of the proposed labor law changes which Republicans and some Democrats have been talking about.

At the same time, the opposition blossomed into action:

1. CIO President Philip Murray, in a letter to every member of Congress, said that pending labor proposals seek to destroy organized labor and menace "our whole framework of American civil liberties."

2. The AFL said in a statement that it and the railroad brotherhoods were joining "in a united campaign to combat and defeat dangerous restrictive legislation."

3. Senator James Murray (D-Mont) described a meeting which seven Democrat senators held with Philip Murray last night. Senator Murray said "every senator present was convinced that drastic punitive legislation is not the approach to good labor-management relations."

The new Case bill in the House, being a big catch-all measure, was contrary to the strategy of Senate Republicans.

They have decided to proceed first of all with a slightly-revised version of the 1946 Case bill under the name of the Ball-Taft-Smith bill. Then the Senate Republicans will give longer study to other proposals like changing the Wagner act and outlawing the closed shop.

Case's new bill has no assurance of being adopted by the House this year, but it is one of the most important of the many labor bills that have been introduced. It is likely to get careful consideration by the House labor committee.

Here are some of the things the new Case bill would do:

1. Create a five-man "Industrial disputes commission" outside the Labor department and abolish the U. S. Conciliation service. The commission could delay a strike 60 days by offering its services.

2. Provide for an emergency commission in case of a strike threat in an "essential monopolized service or industry"; if the employees voted to accept the commission's recommendations, the employer would be compelled to accept the terms for six months whether he wanted to or not.

3. Make it unfair labor practice for employees to coerce other employees, damage property, withdraw essential maintenance employees during a strike, refuse to bargain, and to call a strike without first using all available government machinery and getting a majority vote of the employees.

4. Give the U. S. attorney general the right to file charges of unfair labor practices against employees or employers (only the National Labor Relations board can do this now).

5. Deprive employees in jurisdictional or sympathy strikes of the right to get their job back after the strike.

6. Require annual financial reports by unions to their members.

Calm in Court

awhile, but you've gotta admit the roads weren't affected . . . not one order was issued by the highway department . . . no one took real notice of my efforts." We thought we detected a slight sigh.

Never one to see a man cry, we tried to soothe him by reminding him that there are many more Winter days left . . . in fact, a couple of more days left this week.

"I know that," he said, "but the rest of my family is supposed to be off today and tomorrow . . . the weatherman says it'll be warmer. With a forecast like that I'm going to have a heck of a time getting my snow on the ground."

After 15 minutes of striving to get free, Miss Cressman broke her bonds and ran to release Landis. Walking together across the muddy fields, Miss Cressman lost a shoe.

Upon arriving at the home of John Steele, about a half mile from the abandoned home, Landis called the Collegeville state police.

The two men were reported to have told Landis and Miss Cressman that they needed the couple's car for a getaway. They claimed that they had shot a man in another county, were being sought by police and had been hiding all day.

Collegeville police reported last night, however, that a thorough check of wanted persons and recent crimes within the area did not reveal any incident in which the bandits might have been involved.

The bandits were described by their victims as being white, about 25 years of age, wearing dark overcoats and felt hats and of medium build. One flourished a much-used looking automatic revolver of .32 or .38 calibre.

Miss Cressman was taken to Schwenkville where she was treated by a local physician for shock, exposure and scratches.

Obituaries

LENA C. KURTZ, 75, of 1429 CHERRY LANE, wife of the late Charles Kurtz, died Wednesday night at her home. She had lived in Pottstown for the past eight years.

Surviving her are the following: a daughter, Mrs. Sol Weintraub, at home; two sons, Lewis C. of Atlantic City, N. J., and M. Theodore, of Trenton, N. J.; one grandchild, a sister, Mrs. D. Lifland, of Philadelphia; and a brother, Maurice Carr, of Toledo, Ohio.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from a funeral home at 1945 North Broad street, Philadelphia. Interment will be in Har-Jehndah cemetery, Philadelphia.

Coroner's Car Kills Youthful Coaster

WAYNESBURG, Jan. 9 (AP)—Charles E. Haines, Greene county coroner, reported today he fatally injured a neighbor's youngster when the nine-year-old boy's sled coasted from an embankment into the path of the county official's car.

The victim was Frederick Humble, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Humble, of suburban Morrisville. Haines said he saw the youngster but was unable to stop in time on the slippery highway. The lad, who suffered a fractured skull and arm, died six hours after the accident in the Greene county Memorial hospital.

Mr. George D. Robins Gives Interesting Address on 'Peace' at Meeting of WCTU

Mr. George D. Robins gave a very interesting talk on "Peace" at the January meeting of Pottstown WCTU yesterday afternoon in the chapel of First Presbyterian church.

He said in part, "Our World has suffered from 12 wars in 300 years. Warfare is the natural state of mankind. We all desire peace."

During the Crusade period the church preached warfare and peace is to be striven for today. We cannot eliminate war but the United Nations are working toward better conditions for all nations and we all must lend a helping hand."

In conclusion Mr. Robins said, "Are we willing to spend less on luxuries and may profit be decreased to aid in a better world condition."

Readings from clippings, "What Prohibition Can Do" and "Extremes in Drinking", presented by a reader of the Episcopal church, were read by Mrs. Joseph Conway.

Mrs. J. A. Clumhaza gave a very fine portrait of the plane made by her son, David and family, who departed recently from La Guardia Field, N. Y. and was arrived in Leopoldville, Belgian Congo. She illustrated her beautiful description with photographs. She closed her remarks by reading a letter received from Mrs. Clumhaza, which gave vivid information of the details of their arrival for Christmas Day to greet a brother who is stationed at the same place. The union voted to send greetings to these two noted missionaries.

A quarter composed of Mrs. Edward Graham, Mrs. Jonathan Alling, Miss Mary Eschbach, and Miss Ruth Callahan, accompanied by Miss Minnie McAfee at the piano, sang a selection.

Miss Laura Ecker, president, who presided at the business meeting extended greetings and gave an outline of the future work of the union, stressing the possibility of attaining the Standard of Excellence for the union.

Minutes of the previous meeting were read by Mrs. George Strubhar and Miss Bella Prizer gave the treasurer's report.

Mrs. Lester Ulmer reported having sent 13 greeting cards during the past month. Miss Gertrude Ecker gave the corresponding secretary's report.

Reports of the LTL and YTC organizations were given by Mrs. A. Kenaga. Mrs. Clyde Borremann spoke on the possibility of forming a branch LTL in another part of Pottstown.

Mrs. Mary M. Klum and Mr. Harry Strubhar were welcomed as new members.

The meeting closed with the Atonic Benediction.

During a social period refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. George Robins, Mrs. Mary Reed, Mrs. C. L. John, and Mrs. Robert Harleston.

Editorials Shouldn't Restrain Fair Judge, Supreme Court Told

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (AP) — The Supreme court today heard counsel for three Texas newspapermen argue that "any judge who meets normal standards would not be over-awed or bullied" by a newspaper editorial.

Counsel for the Texas attorney general argued, on the other hand, that the newspapermen by their writings had sought to coerce a Texas judge's judicial action.

The three newspapermen appealed to the high court after being convicted of contempt and sentenced by Judge Joe D. Browning of Nueces county, Tex., to jail terms of three days each.

The defendants are Conway Craig, publisher of the Corpus Christi Caller-Times; Bob McCracken, managing editor, and Tom Mulvany, reporter.

The appeal centered on Judge Browning's ruling that news accounts and an editorial dealing with an eviction case in his court were "calculated to reflect upon the integrity of the court, to embarrass this court, to affect the course of justice."

Defense counsel argued that the items created no "clear and present danger" of coercing a judge who has "reasonable fortitude and normal strength of character."

"We suggest you cannot assume that these publications operated as an effective intimidation of a judge who does not measure up to respectable standards with respect to strength of character," said defense attorney Ireland Graves.

The contempt case developed after trial of an eviction suit in which Joe L. Mayes, an Army private, lost a lease on a business property where he had operated the "playboy Cafe."

Judge Browning after two days of trial directed the jury to return a verdict against Mayes. Instead, the jury twice returned verdicts for Mayes. Finally, however, the jury gave a verdict against Mayes, stating it was "with the orders of the court against the conscience of this jury."

Later a motion for a new trial was made. Jerry D'Unger, counsel for the attorney general, said the contempt case was distinguished from other contempt cases on which the Supreme court has ruled in the past. In the present case, he contended, "The publications not only criticized judicial action already taken, but demanded a certain disposition be made of the case in the matter of granting a new trial, as well as future disposition of the case, by trial before some other judge."

Paper Reports Plot On Official's Life

HAVANA, Cuba, Jan. 9 (AP) — The newspaper Hoy, organ of the Cuban Socialist (Communist) party, said today it had uncovered a plot to assassinate President Ramon Grau San Martin.

Hoy said that the conspiracy had been hatched by Vice President Raul De Cardenas and "the embassy of a country whose government speaks much of democracy and presents itself as a great friend of Cuba."

De Cardenas, in a statement to the conservative newspaper Diario De La Marina, said that the Hoy charges were "ridiculous and a maneuver to damage good relations between Cuba and the United States."

"This isn't the first time that the Communists have used my name in connection with so-called conspiracies," said De Cardenas. He added that the Hoy story was not taken seriously by the government.

Hoy said that the conspirators planned to bomb the Cuban presidential palace with five military planes now stationed at a Miami airfield. After the assassination, Hoy said, De Cardenas would take over the presidency and "would be recognized immediately by a friendly nation which would offer him all classes of aid to re-establish order."

Control Group to Close Sugar Branch Offices

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (AP) — The Office of Temporary Control announced today that eight of 64 sugar branch offices will be closed between Feb. 1 and 15.

These offices handle application forms and inquiries concerning sugar rationing. These functions will be transferred to nearby branch offices. The agency said about 136 employees of the closed offices will receive dismissal notice Wednesday.

The offices to be closed and the place to which their functions will be transferred include: Scranton, Pa., to Philadelphia; and Wilmington, Del., to Baltimore.

Son of the founder of that company, purchased the "Annex" from the Schwab estate. He improved that building, adding offices on the second floor. He also built the fish market on the Queen street end of the building.

Arche ground floor presently houses the Bahr delicatessen store, as well as frozen foods store operated by Bahr's son, John Jr. The Smith stationery store, Charles Longaker, jeweler, the "Weeks Optical" and the "Merivale Hosiery" shop. The "Annex" west of the Smith stationery store houses the Royal Shoe store and the Penn-Sapphire women's wear shop.

The second floor contains offices of Dr. Charles A. Barlow, Dr. H. C. Hancock and Dr. J. Robert Gray, the Girard Investment corporation, two beauty shops and a ten-room apartment.

The auditorium market houses 30 farmers' stalls. In the rear of the market at Charlotte and Queen streets is the Unruh Fish market, operated by Charles Tornabene. The Bahr Arcade Realty company had as its directors a number of local persons including Mrs. Lena J. Campbell, Paul Brooke, Irvin L. Rieper, Leon H. Seiders, Davis C. Knauser, Charles L. Schuk and George M. Longaker.

These directors are expected to resign their positions and a new directorate elected within 90 days.

workers taken from the payroll. Knutson stood firm on his House bill No. 1 proposing a 30 percent slash in personal income taxes this year, but one highly placed Republican senator told the reporters privately the idea of an immediate 30 percent $3,350,000 tax slash does not appeal to him.

"How can you say you are going to cut taxes by any figures, until you know what the income and outgo of the government is going to be?" he asked.

Milligan, who will be the Republican chief tax manager in the Senate, said, "I think we can have a tax cut, but I don't say what kind—how much here and how much there."

He said Snyder "offered his co-operation" but there was no serious discussion at the luncheon either of the budget or taxes. ## WAGE-HOUR ACT —

1944 and 1945 reports. The report for the last year was made public here at the wage and hour and public contracts division of the U.S. Department of Labor.

The report suggested that, with the war ended, it now was time to review this basic economic charter for low-paid workers' and "to suggest other means of increasing the benefits of the act for covered wage earners and of extending coverage to additional workers."

Walling recommended that Congress establish a new minimum wage of 65 cents to replace the present 40 cents, declaring that cost-of-living increases had reduced the purchasing power of 40 cents to 27 cents or "in terms of its lowly equivalent, to the shockingly low figure of $540."

Funeral services for WILLIAM R. SCHAEFFER, husband of Mabel (Richard) Schaeffer, BECHTELS-VILLE RD. 1, were held yesterday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from a funeral home, 124 West Philadelphia avenue. Continued services were held in St. Joseph's Hill Lutheran church, where the pastor, the Rev. Luther Lee Lengel, officiated.

Burial was made in Hill Church cemetery. Bearers were: Melvin and Daniel Schaeffer, Samuel Sands, John G. Miller, William Marburger and William Dengler.

Clay Pipe Making Described to Rotary

Members of the Rotary club were given a detailed description of the modern-industrial art of making clay pipe and other by-products at a classification talk by Richard Haury last night in the Elks' home.

Haury representing the Robinson Clay products company told members that they would be surprised at the tremendous amount of work entailed in turning out one piece of pipe.

To have a finished product in the size required Haury told members that the pipe must first be moulded, 12 percent too large and then allowed to shrink during the cooking process.

"Perfect timing is required in order for each finished product to fly properly," Haury said.

Visiting last night were: Harvey Walton, Ben-Salem; Russell Jones, Spring City; Earl Geiger and Grant Bechtel, Boyertown.

PHOENIXVILLE HERE TONIGHT FOR FIRST TILT

Trojans Look for Third Win of Season; Weber May Not Play

Phoenixville High school's Phantoms invade Pottstown tonight for the opening Section Three battle for these two clubs of the 1947 cage season. Game time for the junior varsity contest is slated for 7:15 p.m. on the Junior High school court.

The Trojans, who have dropped five of the seven games but who have been meeting the top teams in the state, will be running for a victory to start things off on the right foot to regain the title which last was held in Pottstown in 1945 when Hen Stoffa and company went through the 10 league games undefeated.

Captain Ed Good's charges have defeated Easton and Lancaster this season while losing to Allentown, Bethlehem, Reading, Norristown and Lebanon.

The Trojans mentor may have to shake up his starting lineup just a bit for this tilt. Tom "Monk" Weber, who suffered an ankle injury in the Norristown tilt may not be ready for service.

Dave Decker, who has missed the last two games, is back in top form and will take his place in the starting lineup at one of the guard positions. Bobby Maritz, the team's high scorer, will team with Decker at guards.

Claude "Deacon" Reinhardt, who tabbed 18 counters against Norristown, will hold down the center post and Stan Stolar and Bob Russell will be at forwards.

McCabe's Baby Trojans, victorious three times this season, will be out to retain the Section III title for junior varsity fives that for the past three years has been in Pottstown.

McCabe will start Brower Yeager and Don Ziegler at forwards with Howard Kinlock at center. Danny Ludwig and George Rath will be the guards.

In other Section Three tilts tonight, West Chester plays at Berwyn and Downingtown plays host to Coatesville.

Club Century Five To Meet York Team

A strong Club Century basketball team will travel to meet the Cypus Attucks Association tonight in a game scheduled to be played at York.

The game will start at 7:30 o'clock and the local team will leave by bus at 5 o'clock from the Bethany Recreation Center.

RELAYS MARCH 29
CHICAGO, Jan. 9 (P)—The 11th annual Chicago Relays will be held at Chicago Stadium March 29, the Daily News, sponsor of the charity track carnival, announced today.

Bears Play Host to Kutztown; Amity Tangles With Fleetwood

TANNERY FIVE WINS, 27-26, OVER DIAMOND

Boyetown High school's Bears will be looking for their third league victory tonight when they take to the court in a Berks County League game against Kutztown High School. The game will be played at Boyetown following a junior varsity tilt which is scheduled to get underway at 7 o'clock.

In other league games listed for tonight, Hamburg, the league leader, will travel to meet Oley while Amity tangles with Fleetwood in a game at Fleetwood.

Hamburg is leading the league with three victories and no defeats while Coach Fleming's Bears are resting in second place with two wins and one setback. Should Hamburg lose tonight and Boyetown win, the two schools would be deadlocked for the top position.

Fleming is sure of four starters for tonight's tilt, but is still not certain of the fifth man. Bruce Bernhart is slated for duty at one of the forward posts while the other forward spot will be filled by either Jack Eckhart, Bill Reitenauer or Tom Blank.

At guards, Fleming is counting on Dick Schott and Vic "Sonny" Prutzman and Dick Campbell is ready to hold down the center position.

Amity High's quintet is also looking for the number two spot in the league and can move into a tie for the runner up spot by winning over Fleetwood and Boyetown tonight.

The Amity five has a record of one victory and one setback while Fleetwood has dropped two games while winning one.

Foot Amputation For Joe Tinker

G. LUTHERAN TIES COVENTRY FOR 2ND PLACE

Standings

Grace Lutheran's fast-moving basketball quintet moved into a tie for third place in the YMCA Sunday School league last night by handing First Baptist a 36-22 setback in a game played on the YMCA court.

First Methodist-St. Peter's combination five turned back Coventry Brethren, 22-20, to move out of a tie with First Baptist for last place.

Grace Lutheran started its game slow and was deadlocked with the Baptist quintet when the first period ended. The winners pulled away in the second quarter with eight points and held a comfortable lead at half-time. The third period was evenly matched, but the winners rallied in the final quarter to clinch the tilt.

Coventry Brethren couldn't do much in its game last night and dropped its second game of the year. The winners took the lead in the opening minutes of the contest and held on to it throughout the entire ball game.

Coventry Brethren really made it close in the second period, but the winners increased the lead by another point in the third quarter but had to stop Coventry in the final stanza to win.

THE PHANTOM

MISTER HOG WAS JUST A STEP AHEAD OF US, DIANA. HE'S NEVER-AND HE WORKS FAST.

GO UPSTAIRS AND GET SOME SLEEP. I'M GOING TO VISIT MISTER HOG!

OH, DARLING, BE CAREFUL.

IT WAS LIKE A NIGHTMARE—FINDING THAT HOUSE SO EMPTY-AND DESERTED. OH-I'M EXHAUSTED-I NEED SLEEP.

MISTER HOG WANTS TO SEE YOU, MISS Z!

SLICK!

MUGGS McGINNIS

HEY, EFFIE! WHAT'S THE MATTER?

OH, PAPPY JUST BOUGHT THAT USED CAR A FEW MINUTES AGO....

FROM THE PATROLMAN?

NO! HE'S GIVIN' PAPPY A TICKET!

WHAT FOR? SPEEDING?

NO!! FOR NOT PUTTIN' OUT HIS HAND...

...WHILE WE WERE PUSHIN' IT AROUND A CORNER!!

BRICK BRADFORD

ALL COMFY AND SET? WE'RE TAKING OFF!

JUST FINE, THANKS!

THE HUGE FLOAT PLANE RISES SWIFTLY FROM THE WATER—

—THEN GLIDES NORTHWARD AS GREAT STORM CLOUDS GATHER ON THE HORIZON.

ETTA KETT

HOW'D ETTA MAKE OUT WITH THE SPEECHES I HELPED HER WRITE?

SHE HAD SOME RECORDINGS MADE AT THE MUSIC STORE!

ONE OF THE BOYS WENT ALONG WITH HER WHILE SHE MADE THEM!

THESE MUST BE SOME OF THEM!

I'LL PLAY ONE, TO HEAR HOW HER VOICE SOUNDS.

DEAR FRIENDS! IF I AM ELECTED—RICKY! STOP IT! YOU'RE MESSING UP MY HAIR!—IF I AM ELECTED, I PROMISE TO—LISTEN, DON'T BE A WOLF—

BIG SISTER

WHAT WAS IT YOU SAW? WHERE?

WATCH THAT CLUMP OF BUSHES! SEE? SOMEONE SLIPPING OUT OF THE SHADOWS!

OH, OH! IT'S A MAN! WHO IS IT?

YOUR GUESS IS AS GOOD AS MINE. HE'S FOLLOWING AFTER MR. MALFY!

BETH, I'LL BET IT'S THE POLICE! THEY'RE WATCHING HIM, TOO!

I WISH I KNEW FOR SURE. THE BEST WE CAN DO NOW IS TRAIL HIM!

BARNEY GO-LE & SNUFFY SMITH

SAHIB!! YOU HAVE LET GO OF MY HAND!!

JES! KEEP A WALKIN', AGGIE—I'LL KETCH UP WIF VE

DURNED SHOESTRINGS

OH, SAHIB--GO AROUND THIS GOPHER HOLE---I ALMOST SPRAINED AN ANKLE

TOOTS AND CASPER

SOPHIE TOLD ME TO STOP AT THIS PET SHOP AND GET SOME DOG FOOD, AND I'VE FORGOTTEN THE NAME OF IT. I'LL CALL HER.

THIS WALKIE-TALKIE IS SURE HANDY. CALLING SOPHIE!

SOPHIE! COME IN, COLONEL.

AYOY YOU OLD BATTLE AXE!

HONEST, SOPHIE, I DIDN'T CALL YOU ANY NAME!

I HEARD WHAT YOU CALLED ME!

WHAT'S THE HURRY, COLONEL?

CASPER, A TALKATIVE PARROT JUST GOT ME IN A JAM, AND IT'S GOING TO TAKE THE DOVE OF PEACE TO GET ME OUT OF IT!

MICKLY MOUSE

IT'S OFFICIAL! WE DOES AWAY WITH D' PUSSYCAT IN D' MORNIN'!

GOOD-BYE, MURROW! KITTY!

CRACKLE! POP!

Downingtown Tops Warwick In Conestoga Loop Opener

Downingtown's entry in the Conestoga Valley Basketball League got off to a good start last night by nailing Warwick at a 23-22 second in the league opener at Warwick.

The Downingtown quintet took a big lead in the first period and then held Warwick for three periods to clinch the win.

Tom Lills, Downingtown center, was high scorer of the contest with 14 points via six field goals and two fouls. Melvin Sietz was runner-up with eight points.

Warwick started to rally in the final period after trailing by 19-15 but the winners held on and nailed the rally before any damage was done.

Totals: Downingtown 23, Warwick 22. Referee: K. Sietz. Time: 23-22.

Roth's moved a full game ahead of the YMCA in the City Basketball League last night with a 42-28 triumph over UAW 644's quintet on the Junior High school floor.

In the other tilt of the evening, Transfiguration built up a big lead and then took a nose-dive, getting only one point in the final period but that one point proved the margin of victory as it squeezed past the Scorpions, 29-28.

Roth's never were behind in registering their fifth straight victory and held a 10-4 advantage at the end of the initial eight minutes of play.

The winners were always in the lead but UAW was always dangerous, close until the final period when Roth's poured 17 points through the hoop to gain an easy victory.

Elwood Schaeffer led all scorers with five field goals and four fouls for 14 points. Walt Paskowski, former Pottstown High ace, led UAW's attack with 13 counters.

Transfiguration built up a 28-19 lead at the end of three periods against the Scorpions and then held on long enough to win out, 29-28, in a thriller all the way.
